DELEGATES AT SPA BEGIN CONFERENCE

Important Gathering of Allied and German Representatives Opens With Announcement of Order of Business—Disarmament, Reparations and Trial of War Criminals

GERMAN POSITION STATED IN LATE MEMORANDUM

Arrangements Are Made for Attendance of Other Ministers to Discuss Various Questions, and Conference Is Adjourned Until Today—Proceedings Satisfactory

SPA, July 5.—There was a brief meeting today of the Allied and German delegates, who during the next few days will discuss matters relating to the Peace Treaty.

The session was held in the drawing-room of the Villa Fraineuse, and the German delegates, Chancellor Fehrenbach, Dr. Walter Simons, the Foreign Minister, and Herr Wirth, Minister of Finance, were present. There were no introductions or shaking of hands.

The President of the Conference, M. Delacroix, the Belgian Premier, arose and immediately opened what is considered to be the most important international event since the armistice by announcing the order of business, which included disarmament, reparations, coal supply, the trial of Germans accused of atrocities, and the situation at Danzig.

M. Delacroix inquired of Herr Fehrenbach if he desired to make any observations. The Chancellor, speaking in German, which was translated by an official interpreter, said:

"I desire to say, in behalf of the German government and of the German people, that we have come here to take part loyally in the discussion as to how the Treaty of Peace can be executed."

Mr. Lloyd George, as senior Premier, thereupon expressed the gratification of the Allied delegates, and Herr Fehrenbach continued:

"I note that the military questions are to be the first discussed. We were informed of this last evening, and tried to telephone the German Minister of War, but reached him too late for him to leave until today. He will arrive, we think, by tomorrow afternoon."

Other Ministers to Attend

Premiers Delacroix, Lloyd George and Millerand then conferred and agreed to postpone the discussion until tomorrow at an hour to be fixed later.

"I should like to have Dr. Heinz, Minister of Justice, here when we take up the question of trials," said Herr Fehrenbach.

The three Premiers again conferred privately. A few minutes later M. Delacroix announced that the Lord Chancellor of England and the French Minister of Justice would also attend on Thursday for participation in the discussions. The conference recessed until called together by M. Delacroix tomorrow.

The proceedings today lasted just 45 minutes.

Dr. Simon remarked afterwards that the atmosphere of the conference was cool but correct. He believed that a good deal would be accomplished.

Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand expressed themselves as satisfied with the formal beginning.

German Memorandum

BERLIN, July 5.—The memorandum dealing with Germany's ability to pass the indemnities demanded by the Allies which the Government handed to the Peace Conference recently to be used as a basis for the discussions of the question at Spa, sets forth that Germany's national wealth before the war was 220,000,000,000 gold marks, whereas her wealth before the war was 220,000,000,000 gold marks, from which foreign debts of from 8,000,000,000 to 10,000,000,000 marks must be deducted. The memorandum declares that Germany's economic recovery cannot be brought about until she recovers financially, and it maintains that the present peace treaty jeopardises her financial recovery.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD AT REVELSTOKE

REVELSTOKE, B.C., July 5.—A memorial service for the four victims of the recent drowning accident was held here at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the river bank, near the scene of the fatality, hundreds of sympathising citizens being present. The service was in charge of Mayor Walter Bews, the city clergy taking part.

The G.W.V.A., represented by 40 returned men, in charge of Dr. Hamilton, were also present, the bugle corps playing the Last Post. At the close of the service on the river bank the proceedings were continued on the traffic bridge over the Columbia River, where twelve young ladies, acting in the capacity of pallbearers, assisted in consigning many beautiful floral emblems to the waters of the Columbia.

Central American Unification

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, July 4.—Delegates from Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica, Guatemala and Nicaragua, will meet in this city on September 15 next to discuss the basis of a unification of Central America. Invitations to this conference were issued recently by the Salvadorian government, and met with an unanimous response. Satisfaction is expressed at the prospect of replacement of the Central American Court of Justice by the proposed union.

Sawmill Owner Killed

NELSON, B.C., July 5.—George Mathieson, part owner of the Deer Park sawmill, was crushed to death this morning by lumber slipping from a wagon he was loading. Hailing from Newfoundland, he has been in the Arrow Lakes district many years.

MIDNIGHT SUN PARTY RETURNS FROM NORTH

VANCOUVER, July 5.—When she arrived from Skagway this morning the C.P.R. steamer Princess Alice brought 225 passengers, 100 of whom were members of the annual White Pass and Yukon route excursion to Fort Yukon, where on June 21 they witnessed the "Midnight Sun." The weather was very clear that day and the day following.

All the members of the party, which was recruited mostly in the United States, expressed themselves pleased with that and every other feature of the trip north and back to Vancouver.

NURSE REPORTS ABOUT HOSPITAL

Says Military Institution at Guelph Is Badly Equipped—She and Other Nursing Sisters Dismissed

TORONTO, July 5.—Nursing Sister Mary Pollock, who was dismissed recently from Speedwell Military Hospital, Guelph, Ont., for refusal to serve in the diet kitchen, and whose dismissal resulted in 18 other nursing sisters in sympathy with Miss Pollock being also cashiered because they had also refused to work in the diet kitchen, in an interview with a representative of The Toronto Daily Star at her home in Chesley, Ont., today, said she had found the conditions so bad at Spedwell that she felt like resigning just after having gone there.

The rooms were not proper rooms for the tubercular patients, Miss Pollock said. There was no proper method of heating the small narrow cells for the purpose of bathing the patients. In the Winter, she said, the ink in the nurses' pens would freeze before they could record the patients' temperatures, and the patients lay under 14 heavy army blankets. There was no justification for such management.

MILITARY HONORS AT GORGAS' FUNERAL

LONDON, July 5.—Full military honors will be accorded at the funeral of Major-General William C. Gorgas, former Surgeon-General of the United States army, who died early yesterday. The funeral will be held Friday noon in St. Paul's Cathedral.

There will be in attendance representatives of King George and the Royal family and of the British and American armies and navies and a delegation of the Royal Society of Medicine.

London's Veteran Chief Retires

LONDON, Ont., July 5.—Chief Constable W. T. Williams, head of London's police force for the last 43 years, has retired.

LONDON, July 5.—Sir Gilbert Parker will be one of the principal speakers at the first conference of professors of English in the chief universities of the United Kingdom and the United States, which began here today.

The conference is designed under the auspices of the University of London to promote better relationship between the educational institutions.

The committee will sit in the principal universities and places of historical interest in the British Isles.

PRESENTS SWORD TO GEN. PERSHING

Ambassador Geddes and Recipient of Gift From London Take Occasion to Speak of Countries' Good Relations

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Great Britain does not forget those who prove themselves its friends in the hour of need, Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, told Gen. Pershing today in presenting him a bejewelled sword as a gift of the City of London.

The presentation was made at the British Embassy before a distinguished company. Commenting on the celebration today of America's independence, wrung from an autocratic government by the spirit of individualism "astir in many lands," Sir Auckland recalled that in those days "there were many on both sides of the Atlantic who thought the action of the framers of your constitution right."

"There is now, none, I believe, on either side of the Aalantic," he said, "who does not think they were right. Though neither you nor we are all of English stock, the memories of Runnymede are a possession of all your people, as they are a living memory and possession of all the British people."

Gen. Pershing accepted the sword "in the name of the men of America, who with the men of Great Britain and our other Allies combined the courage and skill that brought a new victory to our race and to all those who seek justice and liberty for mankind.

"The glorious thing for this generation of British and Americans to have had the privilege of battling together," said Gen. Pershing, "will be still more glorious if in harmonious co-operation they can aid in the restoration of the world and guide the future of less fortunate peoples into channels that will insure peace to future generations.

"It is significant that Anglo-Saxon people everywhere whole-heartedly join in celebrating the birth of American independence."

PRINCE ARTHUR OPENS TIMBER EXHIBITION

LONDON, July 5.—Prince Arthur of Connaught today opened the Empire Timber exhibition at Kensington, promoted by the Governmental department of overseas trade with the object of bringing into more universal use the timber grown in the Empire.

The promoters give a special word of praise to Canadian forestry laboratories at Montreal. Canada has a fairly extensive and well-staged exhibit and a few Canadian firms have individual displays. The exhibition is of a purely technical character intended to attract traders.

REVOLVER ACCIDENT KILLS SEATTLE BOY

SEATTLE, July 5.—Snapping a revolver which he believed to be unloaded, Erenfeld Thompson, 18, son of Samuel Thompson, shot and fatally wounded Harry Johnson, 18, son of J. A. Johnson, former Seattle building superintendent, at the latter's home early Sunday evening.

The bullet entered Johnson's abdomen, piercing the lower intestines.

Mr. Johnson, the father, insisted on an operation to remove the bullet, and when told that the boy's condition was precarious on account of the excessive loss of blood, immediately offered his own blood in the attempt to save his son's life. The transfusion operation was performed and the bullet was removed, but the boy died soon after.

Important Mineral Discovery

WINNIPEG, July 5.—Copper and nickel running in lodes of from 100 to 140 feet have been discovered in the Lac Du Bonnet mining district, it was learned today. It is understood the Federal Government has sent a survey party, under W. S. McCann, of Ottawa, to make a report of the whole field.

SITUATION HAS NOT CHANGED

No Move Towards Choice of Successor for Sir Robert Borden Is Reported From Dominion Capital

SOME DEVELOPMENT EXPECTED TODAY

Premier Strongly Denies Statements in Press to Effect That Some Colleagues Have Been Disloyal to Him

OTTAWA, July 5.—At a late hour tonight there was no change in the political situation.

Sir Thomas White may be here tomorrow, while Hon. Arthur Meighen has been in the city all day.

Hon. N. W. Rowell is expected to arrive back from Toronto early tomorrow, and it is expected he will make an announcement regarding his position.

A remarkable feature of the present situation is the entire absence of old-time politicians, the various well-known rendezvous being practically deserted.

The attention of Sir Robert Borden has been directed to certain statements in the press which allege or imply that certain of his colleagues have not been loyal to him during the last few years. The Prime Minister desires to assert most emphatically that all such reflections upon any of his colleagues are absolutely without warrant or foundation. From first to last every one of his colleagues has been thoroughly loyal to the Prime Minister on every occasion and in every way. He feels himself under a debt of gratitude to ach of them.

WATER RISING IN FRASER RIVER

Stage of Nineteen Feet Is Passed, and Canadian Pacific Takes Precautions—Kicking Horse Subsides

VANCOUVER, July 5.—There is over 19 feet of water in the Fraser today, and the river is rising rapidly, to the anxiety of C. P. R. officials, who have extra crews out, supplied with material to stop the flow if it should rise as far as the tracks.

Word was received this morning, however, that the Kicking Horse flood is resuming its normal level, and the danger that was feared from that source is now over.

Quiet Day at Washington

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Independence Day was observed quietly in Washington. There was no formal celebration as in years past, even the usual great display of fireworks at night in Washington Monument grounds was abandoned. President Wilson spent the day quietly at the White House, reading Independence Day messages from Premier Millerand of France and the heads of other foreign Governments, and receiving news from the Democratic National Convention.

Spanish Railway Question

MADRID, July 4.—Foreign influence is being brought to bear on the Spanish railroad policy and proper development is thus prevented, it was charged by Juan de la Cierva, former Minister of War, in a speech urging nationalization of railways, which has been the subject of wide comment and sharply divided opinion. He denied the right of the present railway proprietors to demand an increase of passenger or freight rates.

Steamships at Quebec

QUEBEC, July 5.—The Canadian Pacific Ocean Steamship Victorian docked at Quebec this afternoon with 1,150 passengers, 650 tons of freight and a large quantity of mail. The steamship Metagama, with 1,767 passengers and some mail and cargo, reached Quebec at 9:30 o'clock this evening. The ships' passengers will be disembarked and examined tomorrow morning.

Canadian M. P. Missing

LONDON, July 5.—A bankruptcy petition has been filed against Lawrence Lyon, M.P. for Hastings (England), who came here some years ago from Toronto. He is a newspaper owner, and was returned to Parliament at the last election as a Unionist. He was to have attended a function in his constituency on Saturday, but did not do so, and is now reported by the newspapers to be missing.

"Punch" Burns Goes to Ottawa

VANCOUVER, July 5.—F. M. Burns, better known to Vancouver as "Punch" Burns, star lacrosse player, left for Ottawa today to take up his duties as assistant inspector of customs, in the department of E. W. Busby, chief inspector of Canadian Customs.

Veteran Drowned

CALGARY, July 5.—John Hunter, returned man, was drowned while bathing in the river at Sarcee Camp on Sunday.

GOVERNOR J. M. COX GETS NOMINATION EARLY IN MORNING

QUESTIONS CONCERN CANADIAN AFFAIRS

LONDON, July 5.—In the House of Commons today, Colonel Amery, Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, gave Mr. Percy Hurd no further information when questioned in regard to the Canadian Minister at Washington and the West Indies conference at Ottawa. Colonel Amery said he understood that the Canadian Government had voted the salary of a minister in Washington, but he was unaware that any further steps had been taken.

In regard to the West Indies conference, he said it had been decided to postpone any public announcement until August 4, in order to give the West Indian Governments time to consider the reports of their delegates to Ottawa, although he believed the agreement arrived at would prove completely satisfactory.

DEFENCE COUNCIL RULES IN POLAND

Supreme Power and Full Military Authority Conferred—Bolsheviki Lose on Northern Front and Gain in South

WARSAW, July 5. — Supreme power in the government of Poland and full military authority has been vested in a national council of defence which was created by the Polish diet.

PARIS, July 5.—Bolsheviki attacks in the Lake Szade region have been repulsed by the Poles, according to advices from Warsaw. The Poles captured a brigade staff and important war materials, the advices add.

LONDON, July 5.—The Bolsheviki have broken the enemy resistance on the Crimean front, according to an official Soviet Government dispatch, under Sunday's date, received by wireless today. The Bolsheviki occupied a number of villages twenty-five miles southeast of Oriekhov, in the Southern Yekaterinoslav region, the statement says.

DAVID SPENCER, LTD., BUY IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, July 5. — David Spencer, Limited, have purchased from R. P. McLennan and E. J. McFeely the property at the northwest corner of Water and Abbott Streets for $135,000.

Asked whether it was the intention of his firm to establish a mail order business at the new premises, Chris Spencer answered in the negative, saying the building would be used merely as a warehouse.

LAMBETH CONFERENCE OPENS PROCEEDINGS

LONDON, July 5.—The sixth Lambeth conference of the Anglican Church opened here today with 270 bishops and archbishops from all parts of the world in attendance.

Seventy resolutions have been prepared for discussion during the sessions of the conference which are expected to last more than a month.

VANCOUVER, July 5.—There will be 80 in attendance at the Summer school for teachers which will open at the University of British Columbia today. Besides members of the University faculty the services of two additional professors from Eastern Canada, who will teach educational courses, has been secured. They are Dr. W. Pakenham, of Toronto, and Dr. S. Silcox, principal of the Normal School at Stratford, Ont.

Memorial to Colored Soldiers

TORONTO, July 5.—The first tablet erected in a Parliament in Canada in memory of negroes was unveiled in the Provincial Parliament Buildings here this afternoon by Premier Drury. The tablet commemorates the patriotism of seventeen men who fell in the war while serving with No. 2 Construction Battalion, the only colored battalion in the Dominion.

Eight Killed in Wreck

McALESTER, Okla., July 5.—Eight persons were killed, 13 seriously injured, some thought fatally, and 10 others suffered minor injuries when a Missouri, Kansas & Texas freight train smashed into the rear end of a carnival company's special about 30 miles south of here last night.

Drunken Man Steals Boat

VANCOUVER July 5.—Threatening the caretaker with an oar, an unknown man under the influence of liquor, rowed away from English Bay pier at 2 o'clock this morning and has not been seen since. The boat was found with an empty whisky bottle in it.

Fire in Golden

GOLDEN, B. C., July 5.—Fire which originated in the gents' furnishing store of A. D. J. Mathieson & Company quickly reduced to ashes that building and the fire hall adjoining. The flames spread so rapidly that the fire fighters were helpless except to confine the conflagration to the two buildings.

Becomes Choice of Democratic Convention at San Francisco on 44th Ballot—In Afternoon and Evening Voting Shows Steady Gain Over Former Secretary McAdoo

VAIN EFFORT MADE FOR ADJOURNMENT

Release of Attorney-General Palmer's Delegates Starts Swing Towards Governor Cox—Changes on 43rd Ballot Indicate His Final Victory—Some of Latest Votes

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—James M. Cox, governor of Ohio, was nominated for President of the United States in the Democratic National Convention at 1:40 o'clock this morning. The nomination came at the conclusion of a forty-four ballot struggle, in which he had steadily beaten down the forces of William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, and President Wilson's son-in-law.

The convention adjourned until noon today.

The changes on the forty-third ballot showed Cox gained twenty-seven and a half, or one hundred and fifty-eight short of the necessary two-thirds. McAdoo lost fifteen, Davis gained eight.

Mayor Lunn, of Schenectady, N.Y., a McAdoo man from New York, moved an adjournment until today after the forty-third ballot, but was drowned out in a roar of noes. Lunn had challenged the New York vote because he contended there were Cox men absent being voted by the chairman. The New York men supporting Cox told Lunn that if he persisted they would challenge votes from other states, which would show McAdoo men absent all over the hall. With that Lunn desisted, and moved the adjournment which was defeated.

Palmer Delegates Released

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—An eleventh-hour release of Attorney-General Palmer's delegates left the Democratic National Convention late tonight with a fight between McAdoo and Cox on its hands, and both of them claimed the other could not possibly get enough of the Palmer wreck to attain a nomination.

The first vote to be cast for a woman for the Democratic Presidential nomination came today from the Kentucky delegation.

Chairman Stanley cast it for Miss Laura Clay, one of the women of the delegation.

So far as convention observers could remember, it was the first vote cast for a woman in the conventions of either of the two great parties.

The convention took 14 ballots in its first session today, and failing to find a nominee, took a recess at 4:50 o'clock until 8:30 o'clock this evening.

Both the McAdoo and Cox forces used the recess period to make a desperate play for the Tammany delegation's support.

"Tammany holds the key to the situation," was the word passed around. It was reported that Indiana, after heading the break to McAdoo was going to jump back to Cox.

An early motion to adjourn was defeated. The Cox people thus won their determination to continue to strike while the iron was hot and press their advantage. The McAdoo delegates for most part voted for an adjournment, although some of them did vote against it.

The Georgia delegation, it was reported on a caucus went over to Cox under the unit rule for the next ballots.

Some of the Ballots

Thirty-third—McAdoo, 421; Cox, 350½; Palmer, 150; Davis, 56.

Thirty-fourth — McAdoo, 420½; Cox, 379½; Palmer, 184; Davis, 54.

Thirty-fifth — McAdoo, 409; Cox, 376½; Palmer, 222; Davis, 34.

Thirty-sixth—McAdoo, 399; Cox, 377; Palmer, 241; Davis, 28; Cummings, 3; Owen, 36; Glass, 4; Clark, 2.

Thirty-seventh—McAdoo, 405; Cox, 386; Palmer, 202½.

Thirty-eighth ballot — McAdoo, 405½; Cox, 383½; Palmer, 211; Davis, 50.

Palmer's delegates released.

Fortieth ballot: McAdoo, 467; Cox, 490; Palmer, 19; Davis, 76; Cummings, 2; Owens, 33; Clark, 3; Colby, 1.

Forty-first ballot: McAdoo, 460; Cox, 494½; Palmer, 12; Davis, 85½; Cummings, 2; Owen, 36; Glass, 24; Clark, 2; Colby, 1.

Georgia, as forecast, flopped to Cox with her whole 28 votes.

Forty-second ballot: McAdoo, 427; Cox, 540½; Palmer, 8; Davis, 40½.

Forty-third ballot: McAdoo, 412; Cox, 568; Davis, 57½; Palmer, 7; Cummings, 2; Owen, 34; Clark, 3; Colby, 1; Glass, 5½.

JAPAN WITHDRAWING FROM TRANS-BAIKALIA

TOKIO, July 5.—An official announcement issued Saturday confirms the story that Japan has decided to withdraw her troops from Trans-Baikalia, but that simultaneously in consequence of the Nikolaievsk massacre, Japan will occupy various points in the Russian Province of Saghalien, which includes the Russian half of Saghalien Island, and also the Town of Nikolaievsk, on the northwest portion of the island, and its neighborhood.

Japan will maintain forces in the Vladivostok district also at Khabarovsk, which is regarded as a strategic point on the way to Nikolaivesk.

Advices from Siberia are to the effect that 400 officers and men of the Japanese regiment pursuing the partisans responsible for the massacre in Nikolaivesk were killed before the partisans were wiped out.

TURKS RETREAT IN ASIA MINOR

Nationalists Are Reported to Be Discouraged by Rapid Advance of Greeks—Prevent British Landing

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 5.—British warships attempted to land marines Friday at Mudania, on the Sea of Marmora, but they were repulsed by rapid fire guns widely scattered along the coast. Evidently the guns were placed since the British landing on June 26.

The Greeks claim that the Turks lost 2,500 men, including 1,500 prisoners, in the fighting preceding the capture of Balikseri, about 100 miles northeast of Smyrna, where the Greeks say the Turkish population welcomed them.

Apparently the Turkish Nationalists are much discouraged by the speedy advance of the Greeks. There are many indications that the Turks are withdrawing in the best possible order toward the line from Brusse to the hills and mountains, whence bandit gangs can harass the enemy's advance toward the Baghdad railway. It is believed that the Nationalists lack artillery and will rely upon guerilla warfare.

PARIS, July 5.—The Turkish Nationalists have evacuated Ismid, about 60 miles to the southeast of Constantinople, according to a dispatch from the Turkish capital Sunday.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 5.—Gen. Paraskevopoulos, chief in command of the Greek army, announces that the Greek troops moving southward from Panderma and northward from Smyrna, effected a junction of advance guards Friday, 25 kilometres northeast of Balikseri, the Turks fleeing in disorder toward Brussa.

LONDON, July 5.—Fighting between Italian and Turkish troops southeast of Smyrna is reported in a dispatch to The London Times from Smyrna. The dispatch says the Turkish Nationalists, having penetrated the Italians lines, burned a railroad station.

CASES OF STRIKERS DELAYED BY APREAL

OTTAWA, July 5.—The Government has decided, it is understood, to defer action on the appeals for clemency in the cases of the Winnipeg strike leaders. The view is taken that action could not properly be taken while application for leave to appeal is still pending before the judicial committee of the Privy Council. When the judicial committee has given its ruling the cases will no doubt again come before the Government for consideration.

The appeal to the Privy Council is based on the contention that a section of the criminal code, limiting the right to appeal in criminal cases, is unconstitutional.

WINNIPEG, July 4.—Claiming that the big poll for Labor throughout the Province last Tuesday is a clear protest against continued incarceration of the convicted Winnipeg strike leaders, a resolution was unanimously passed this afternoon at a meeting of the election committee of the Dominion Labor Party requesting that the men be released at the earliest possible moment.

ALBANIAN FORCES CAPTURE AVLONA

BERNE, July 5.—An official dispatch from Belgrade says it is confirmed that Avlona, Albania, is entirely in Albanian hands. The majority of the Italian garrison was taken off by warships, the dispatch adds, and a small contingent retreated to Sasenso Island, in the Bay of Avlona, where its situation is critical. The remainder of the garrison was taken prisoners.

Newspaper dispatches received by way of Belgrade say that the Italians, aided by a bombardment by the fleet, attempted unsuccessfully to retake the city. The Italians are reported to have lost 485 killed. Many were wounded and 36 Italian officers were taken prisoners. The Albanians captured seven big guns, several good rifles and much material, the dispatches state, and the fighting is continuing.

PLANK ON IRELAND BEARS LITTLE WEIGHT

DUBLIN, July 5.—The Freeman's Journal, commenting on the Irish plank in the Democratic platform, says:

"No doubt the English press will endeavor to comfort its readers with the fact that the convention hesitated to declare outright for recognition of an Irish republic, irrespective of what the League of Nations might think. But the plank as it stands, if endorsed by America, is one involving the gravest implications. It means that America is invited to declare that the Irish question, if not settled, is one that may lead to war. Only by such declaration could the question be settled by the League of Nations."

Fort Francis Woman Killed

FORT FRANCES, Ont., July 5.—Mrs. Hieberg, of Fort Frances, was killed instantly when an automobile in which she was riding went over an embankment and overturned near here last evening. The car was driven by Mr. Jestov, of International Falls, two of whose children were passengers. Jestov was badly injured and the children were cut and bruised. A son of Mrs. Hieberg is in a serious condition.

PAYING OFF DEBT ON MEMORIAL HALL

This Is Object of This Afternoon's Garden Party at "Tor Lodge," Foul Bay Road, by St. Mary's Guild

With the object of raising funds to pay off some of the debt which is still owing on the new Memorial Hall erected some months ago in connection with St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, the Ladies' Guild is holding a garden fete this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Shallcross, "Tor Lodge," Foul Bay Road (Oak Bay car). The event is being formally opened at three o'clock by Mrs. Scriven, and everyone should try to come early, as there will be much to see beside the beautiful grounds, which, by the way, are particularly noted for the rock garden and the very artistic "landscaping" of the four acres which constitute the estate.

Croquet, clock golf, pony rides—these are some of the things for the young people and the more energetic. Afternoon tea and ice cream will furnish the leisurely visitor with the opportunity which they will want for a quiet social chat with friends. There will be the usual things for sale at the work tables, particular attention being called to the nice assortment of linen and knitted articles which the ladies have been working in collecting for some months.

VICTORIANS TO JOIN TRADE EXCURSION

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 5.—Victoria is sending a delegation to the Kootenay district with the Board of Trade delegation. Secretary F. Elworthy telephoned Secretary W. E. Payne this morning, reserving accommodation for five with the party.

Great preparations are being made for the entertainment of the visitors by the Interior centres. This morning a telegram was received from Mr. Fred Starkey, of the Nelson Board of Trade, in respect to a visit being made to Creston. He is endeavoring to arrange this, but fears it may not be practicable.

A wire was also received from Secretary W. M. Harris, of the Cranbrook Board of Trade, welcoming the party to that city, and advising that arrangements were being made to suitably entertain the visitors.

PARLIAMENT BUILDING WILL BE COMPLETED

OTTAWA, July 5.—Little time has been lost in resuming work on the Parliament Building since the session closed and members had moved out of their offices. A gang of workmen were on the job on Friday morning, and it is expected that the work of finishing the building will be rushed ahead so that it may be completed before another session.

It is proposed to start work on the Peace Tower, which will be the main tower on the building, within a short time.

The cornerstone of this tower was laid by the Prince of Wales during his visit to Ottawa last year.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES IN NEWFOUNDLAND

ST. JOHN'S, Nfd., July 5.—The destruction of St. John's City by forest fires was barely averted Saturday by energetic action on the part of the authorities supplemented by a heavy downpour of rain. Burning in the hot, dry weather of the last week, forest fires have been reported from many sections of the country and have done much damage in the district of Ferryland. A westerly gale brought the flames onto Stores Cove so suddenly that an aged woman was burned to death before she could be removed from her house.

At Lamanche, several houses were destroyed, as well as a big fox farm operated by the Reids. Twenty-five valuable animals were barely rescued from a fiery fate.

New Chelsea, a fishing town, was practically wiped out in another big forest fire and scores of residents were rendered homeless.

Attacks Members of Parliament

KINGSTON, Ont., July 5.—Every member of Parliament who voted to increase his indemnity by $1,500, is a thief, according to Rev. E. H. Burgess, a Presbyterian minister of this city. In the course of a sermon last evening in the Zion Church, Mr. Burgess said that the state morals could not be very high when the members at Ottawa voted themselves $1,500. The preacher styled such self-boosting of salaries a piece of low, mean rascality.

Twenty-Two Prisoners Escape

INDIANAPOLIS, July 5.—Twenty-two prisoners, including two lifers, escaped from the Marion county jail this morning, after having knocked the night jailer unconscious and taking his keys as he was making the rounds.

Jews in Hungarian Schools

BUDAPEST, July 4.—The Minister of Education has issued a ruling that only 25 per cent of the high school students may be Jews. At present 50 per cent of the students are Jews.

INTEREST CONTINUES IN JEWISH RELIEF

Receipts From Drive Totalled $9,617 Last Night—Local Campaign Will Continue for the Present

While the actual canvass for the Canadian Jewish Relief was carried on during the last week, it is the intention of the committee to maintain the office, at 1317 Government Street, for the purpose of receiving subscriptions. Unfortunately the general holiday intervened during the week, with the result that many were out of town, but the committee is glad to report that a number of substantial subscriptions were brought into the office yesterday.

The chairman received a letter yesterday enclosing a cheque for five dollars from a gentleman who had already subscribed a similar sum, who stated that he was glad to double his subscription while he "Wondered how many of those (members of one of the churches) who sang so lustily, 'Resuce the perishing—duty demands it,' realized that here was a golden opportunity to be practical, and in the name of the Great Physician—Himself a Jew—submit their offering to the 'perishing.'"

The campaign director has started for the Up-Island points to organize the various districts and expects to receive a great deal of encouragement, for many letters have been received from various outside places asking when the island campaign is to be begun.

The people of Sidney are working diligently on their canvass, the children being particularly zealous in their efforts. The total returns up to the closing of the office last night amounted to $9,617.74.

PREMIER'S SECRETARY IS GIVEN NEW OFFICE

OTTAWA, July 5.—George W. Yates, who since the formation of Union Government, has been private secretary to Sir Robert Borden, was today appointed assistant deputy minister of railways.

Mr. Yates was previously private secretary to Hon. Frank Cochrane at the time he was Minister of Railways and Canals. When the Union Government was formed, however, Mr. Yates, while still technically remaining an officer of the railway department, temporarily took over the duties of private secretary to the Premier.

On the retirement of Sir Robert, Mr. Yates now returns to the railway department, succeeding L. K. Jones as assistant deputy minister. Mr. Yates has made for years a close study of railway problems.

NARROWLY ESCAPE FROM FOREST FIRE

NELSON, B.C., July 5.—Eddie Fingard, claimant of the Canadian middleweight boxing championship, and his manager, Jules Levine, escaped from the Boulder Creek bush fire Friday night after being encircled seven hours, and climbing over all the logs in the world.

When the heat became intense, they made for the creek, Fingard, who carried an axe, making his preparations to die by bleeding to death if necessary, while Levine selected drowning as the preferable form of release.

They got trapped through being impressed into the fire line and taking a hand in saving the horses. Jack Levine, brother of Jules, sent out an S.O.S. call for them the night of the fire. The three arrived from the prairie lately to work the camps for a casuality company.

IRISH TRADERS PLAN NATIONAL FEDERATION

DUBLIN, July 5.—Delegates representing 26,000 trade unionists, in session here Sunday, resolved to form a federation of Irish trades on a national basis. John Mooney, chairman of the conference, charged that an army of occupation was trying to break down their lines, and that on their flank the British trades unionists, under the guise of friendship, were helping to feed the furnaces for their destruction.

At a public meeting held Sunday resolutions were passed demanding the release of James Larkin, head of the transport union, who is serving a sentence in New York, having been found guilty of criminal anarchy. The resolution requested facilities for the return of Larkin to Ireland, and called upon the Dublin workers to cease their labors for two hours today for the purpose of signing a memorial to the United States Government for the release of Larkin.

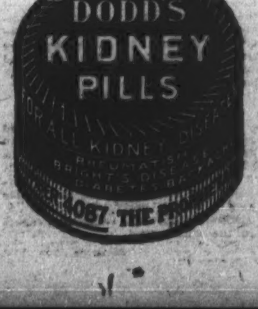

FATAL TRAIN WRECK ON GREAT NORTHERN

SEATTLE, July 4.—At least two persons were killed, and two were badly injured early Sunday morning when Number 27, the Great Northern's fast westbound mail train, was wrecked near Halford, at the boundary of King and Snohomish counties.

The known casualties are: Otto Vigs, 33, engineer, Everett; and A. B. Warner, 35, fireman, of Leavenworth, killed; Herman Chafer, 32, express messenger, Seattle, and Clifford Wilkinson, brakeman, Seattle, seriously injured.

No explanation of how the wreck occurred has yet been furnished. The train, consisting of ten mail and express cars, had just passed Halford when the engine suddenly left the rails, plunged along the track for 300 feet and then rolled over.

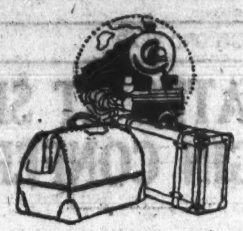

Six cars were practically demolished. The train carried no passengers.

Dance in Schleswig

PARIS, July 5.—The treaty returning the Danish zone in Schleswig to Danish sovereignty, was signed here this morning by the British, French, Italian and Japanese ambassadors and H. A. Bernhoft, Danish Minister to France.

COLONIAL OFFICE CHANGES MOOTED

Transference of Affairs of Self-Governing Dominions to the Privy Council May Leave It Only Crown Colonies

LONDON, June 10.—(By Mail.)—The visits of the Prince of Wales to the self-governing Dominions, says The Times, have brought home, even to the least imaginative, the anomaly that the relations between the Mother Country and the peoples of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Newfoundland, should still be controlled, at least technically, by the Colonial Office. Proposals have been made and are, we understand, receiving careful and favorable consideration for the transfer to the Privy Council of matters appertaining to our great Dominions.

At the same time the need may soon arise, if indeed it be not already acute, for the grouping together of territories in regard to which Great Britain exercises a protectorate or an administrative mandate, under a special department to be designated roughly as the department for the Middle East. It has been suggested that Palestine, Mesopotamia, Egypt, and, to some extent, the affairs of the Arab world, would be most fitly managed by a homogenous organization enjoying greater importance than can be conceded to any section of the Foreign Office. In principle this idea seems sound, though its translation in practice will require care and foresight.

There would thus remain to the Colonial Office the administration of the colonies properly so-called, which would be an ample task for a single department of state.

If the reform be well thought out and carried into effect, it should not involve any serious increase of bureaucratic appointments or overlapping of functions. It should, above all, facilitate the formulation of intelligible policies—an urgent need of our whole administration.

IRISH SOLDIERS MUTINY IN INDIA

Part of Battalion of Connaught Rangers Refuses Duty—Another Detachment Tries to Seize Arms

LONDON, July 5—Three-fourths of a battalion of Irish Connaught Rangers stationed at Jullundur, in the Punjab, India, mutinied following the arrival of news of recent events in Ireland, according to a dispatch from Simla, under date of July 2, to Reuter's, Limited.

Upon receipt of the same news at Solan, in the Simla hills, another detachment is reported to have attempted to seize arms and ammunition, the dispatch says, adding that guards killed two of the men and wounded one.

The dispatch says that when the last mail reached the troops they became greatly excited, and the decision to lay down their arms soon was reached, one-fourth of the men remaining loyal to the colonel. The troops expressed regret that they were unable to serve any longer, and gave up their arms and ammunition. While remaining entirely respectful to their officers, the men explained their sympathies were with their friends in Ireland. The troops now are separated in camp under the strict guard of a British regiment.

Following the drastic action of the guards at Solan, the dispatch continues, all is quiet there, and reports from Jutogh, six miles from Simla, say that the detachment there remained tranquil.

According to the dispatch the officers regard the whole affair as a development of Sinn Fein action, and believe the prompt measures taken to restore order will soon cause the men to settle down.

CANADA'S AIR FORCE PLANS PROPOSED

WINNIPEG, July 4.—"Canada's future air force will be wholly unprofessional and number 5,000 strong," if this and other important proposals made at the closing session of the Canadian air force association convention held here last night, is approved by the Privy Council.

According to the recommendations made at the convention, each man will have to train for one month in every twenty-four, but if he volunteers for a longer period the convention agreed that he should receive a higher rate of pay than for the regular training month. The training centres, of which Camp Borden is the first, and at present the only one, will be kept open all the year around.

SHOPMEN'S WALKOUT HAS BEEN DEFERRED

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—The strike of shopmen of the Pennsylvania system scheduled for today, has been deferred indefinitely, according to an announcement by Harry S. Jeffery, leader of the six local allied shopmen's crafts.

Decision to call off the walkout was reached after conferences of labor leaders with Government officials and W. Atterbury, vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railway.

Jeffery said he and other leaders had arrived at the conclusion that the public is a bigger factor than the principles at issue between the railroad and the shopmen, and that they have placed their case before Atterbury, confident that he will review it impartially and adjust the grievances to the satisfaction of all concerned.

WELCOME RAINFALL IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA

LETHBRIDGE, July 5.—The long hot dry spell in Southern Alberta was broken Sunday evening by thunderstorms which covered practically every district. The precipitation varied from a quarter of an inch to five inches and a quarter.

At Macleod a cloudburst accompanied by hail occurred. Four inches of hail fell, cutting the crops and gardens to the ground and breaking every window but those of plate glass in the north side of the buildings in the path of the storm, which was about twelve miles wide and considerably longer in extent.

Rain is still falling in many places in the southern part of the province this morning, and crops are benefited greatly, though there is little chance that the whole district will reap much

NINE MORE DAYS.

Perhaps a little over 50 per cent of those qualified to be on the Provincial voters' list for this city have now registered their names. There is an impression that there should be at least 25,000 voters in this constituency, but we think this figure is an exaggeration. Possibly from 21,000 to 22,000 would be nearer the mark. In any case only a little over half of those qualified have registered and the lists remain open for only nine days more, unless the Government sees fit to extend the time. One fact in connection with the lists now being compiled that has not been emphasized enough is the possibility that the next Federal election is likely to be held on the present registration. The resignation of Sir Robert Borden might have the effect of precipitating a Dominion election earlier than is anticipated, and if such is held this year it will be on the lists which the Provincial Government is now preparing.

Apart from the foregoing consideration there should be sufficient public interest in such an issue as that of Prohibition to lead to the most complete list that has ever been drawn up in the Province. Latest advices show that registration is more active everywhere else in British Columbia than it is in Victoria, and yet the fact of the preparation of the lists has received greater publicity here than in other constituencies. If the present apathy is maintained there will be many hundreds, and possibly thousands, who will be complaining bitterly in four months' time because their names are not on the lists. Their complaints will be unwarranted because the fault will be entirely their own. There is no excuse for anyone being omitted. It is for the individual, woman or man, to go and register. If it is found within the next week that the response is still not what it ought to be the Government should see its way to extend the time for registration until the end of the month so as to permit of no excuse, on any grounds, for non-registration.

POLITICALLLY AT SEA.

At a time when so many consider that the day of coalition governments is over it would appear that the very reverse is the case. In Manitoba there is talk of a coalition ministry, because no party has a clear majority over all the others. Ontario has a coalition government, and in a sense there is one at Ottawa and in London. Germany has had to resort to coalition, and it is the same in other countries that could be named. It is quite possible that when further elections are held in other Canadian Provinces that such a complexity of public opinion will be shown as to necessitate the formation of coalition governments with the compromise policies which such involve. It may take five, or even ten years, for the mental attitude of people in different countries to regain its balance, and then again there will be two outstanding political parties whatever they may be called. What has become known as the silent vote, which as a rule decides elections, seems for the time being to have grown weary of the old line political parties, and it is casting about for something to take their places, without very much success except in complicating the political situation. Eventually there will be either a return to the old partisan names or some new parties will be evolved from the present chaos which will win their way into the imagination of the people.

From some aspects it is unfortunate there should be so much political uncertainty in a time of reconstruction because it is injurious to progress. Governments in these times, and mainly through lack of a definite mandate from the people have to be very chary of their steps, for an electorate rarely votes outright for a coalition ministry. Their initiative is thus weakened or destroyed, they are held in check by elements to which they have to look for support, and they are continually in fear of happenings which will force an appeal to the people. A government which is going to promote progressive legislation must be strongly entrenched in power, yet this it is unlikely to be under the restraining influences of coalition, where its factions may often be pulling in different directions. The political situation has been further complicated by the array of candidates who now seek election at the polls and who thus introduce an added conflict of ideas among the electorate. Perhaps, as in other walks of life, as well as in the political field, the explanation of the situation lies in the lack of leadership. This was notoriously illustrated in the nominating conventions of the Republicans and Democrats in the United States. The public on this continent, as well as elsewhere, are at sea politically searching for pilots to bring them to safe anchorages.

CROP PROSPECTS.

The strawberry crop is likely to be a delight to both producer and consumer, but, better still, the potato crop is going to be one of the finest on record. Then the wide wheat fields of the Prairies give indications of one of the most abundant harvests on record notwithstanding a late Spring season, and right through Canada to Prince Edward Island the land promises a rich reward to the husbandman. That is not the most cheering news that possibly could be carried to a population that is much worried by the high cost of living. It may not be wise to rush to the conclusion that what is known as normal times—meaning the conditions that prevailed before the war—will return immediately the harvests have been gathered and placed upon the market. The unsettled circumstances of a great part of Europe and of the contiguous continent of Asia preclude any such development.

It is true that the war wounds of industrial France are rapidly healing, and that the more industrious population in Europe has achieved something that is almost a miracle in production of all things necessary to the life of the people; but Germany, normally a land of plenty, is yet in a very unsettled state, and Austria and Hungary and Russia are still wrestling with chaos, with no immediate prospect of the people settling down to the business which formerly occupied their waking hours—that is of producing all kinds of food to meet both domestic and foreign demand.

Russia and Hungary when externally and internally at peace, produce great quantities of wheat of a class that is excelled only by the grain of the Prairies of Canada. They will not do a great deal in that line of activity this year so far as appearances go. Therefore, while Canada may produce abundantly, the fact must be kept in mind that the markets of Europe will determine prices, and that they hardly can be as low for domestic consumption as they were in pre-war days. That is the reason many people cannot appreciate the point involved in the maintanance of the Canadian Wheat Board. The workings of that mysterious body appear somewhat sinister in the light of the fact that wheat and flour prices are declining in the United States while in Canada they are going in the opposite direction. In the interests of the public, and in view of the conditions in foreign countries, surely prices of wheat should not be arbitrarily fixed, but left for determination by the natural law of supply and demand, which, under ordinary circumstances, fairly holds the balance as between producer and consumer.

One of the Liberal members of the Ontario Legislature has announced that he will no longer follow his leader, Mr. Hartley Dewart. It is said that other Liberals will follow the example of the deserter. The general impression in political circles is that a movement has commenced that will materially strengthen the forces of the Drury Government and ultimately make it independent of the labor forces. Farmers and labor men do not make agreeable political bedfellows. Influences are said to be at work in Ontario looking towards the formation of one powerful political party, out of elements at present divided. This in turn may result in the coalition of the opposition forces, and the end will be just as it was in the beginning, and has been for a long time—two great political parties representing respectively conservative and advanced political principles.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. J. R. Stratton, of Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. T. McDonald, 1420 Elford Street.

Mrs. W. D. Grant, who has been a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, has left that institution and proceeded to Vancouver, where she will receive further treatment at St. Paul's Hospital.

Mr. John Barnsley, of the Union Steamship Company, who, with Mrs. Barnsley, came over from Vancouver last Saturday to spend the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. Leonard Robinson, Gorge Road, returned to the Mainland yesterday. Mrs. Barnsley is remaining over for a couple of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Moore, of Pemberton Road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Dr. Gordon C. Kenning, eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. Angus W. Kenning, of Belcher Street, Oak Bay, the marriage to take place shortly.

Mrs. Helen Burdick has been visiting in Vancouver for a few days, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Newton T. Burdick, Kensington Place.

Miss Mary Malins, of Vancouver, has been spending the week-end in the city, visiting friends.

The marriage of Miss Lulu Fletcher, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Fletcher, Shaughnessy Heights, and Dr. B. Blackwood, until recently medical health officer for Point Grey, will take place on July 22 in the Kerrisdale Presbyterian Church. Dr. Blackwood served overseas for several years in the C. A. M. C., and both he and Miss Fletcher are well known in Vancouver, and are popular members of the younger set.

Dr. William Waugh and Miss Jean Waugh, of London, Ont., are the guests of Mrs. R. A. Wyllie, 1547 Monterey Avenue, Oak Bay, during a holiday visit in the city. They leave to-morrow via the G.T.P. route for Prince Rupert and Eastern points.

Dominion Day was brilliantly celebrated by Canadians in London, who made the most of the national festival. The celebrations centred at the Ritz, though Henley gathered its quota. Sir George Perley held an afternoon reception. Unfortunately, Lady Perley was ill and unable to attend. Among the guests were Archbishop Worrell of Halifax, Bishop De Pencier, Lady Dufferin, Lady Strathcona, Lady Minto, Madame Albani, Sir George Aston, Sir George and Lady McLaren Brown, J. G. Colmer, Colonel H. D. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. George Percival, Mrs. C. N. McFarlane. The reception was followed by a dinner in the Connaught Rooms.

Recent arrivals at the Cadboro Beach Hotel include Dr. W. H. McGuffin, a well-known radiologist, and Mrs. McGuffin, of Calgary; Mr. George W. Rourke and family, of Seattle; Mrs. Leigh Spencer and family, of Calgary, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Witcomb and family and Miss Hogan, of Vancouver.

Mrs. C. J. Fagan has been spending the past few weeks on the Mainland, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cluts, at New Westminster, and her sister, Mrs. Stephen J. Thompson, in Vancouver.

Mr. George B. Milne, of this city, was among the large number of local passengers leaving last Saturday via the ss. President en route for Oakland, Cal.

Mrs. Ralph Smith, M.P.P., who went East to attend the annual meeting of the National Council of Women in St. John, N.B., has been spending some time in Ottawa on route home. While in the Capital City Mrs. Smith was the guest of Mrs. J. E. Hanna, who entertained in her honor. Another function arranged in compliment to the distinguished lady legislator was a tea given by the Women's Press Club of Ottawa. At this affair Mrs. Smith spoke briefly, outlining the legislation for women in British Columbia.

Mr. Percival Spouse, until recently pharmacist to the R.C.H., accompanied by Mrs. Spouse, left on Sunday morning via the ss. Prince Rupert for Prince George, where he will assume a position with the Fort George Drug Co. A large number of their friends were at the wharf to speed them on their way with good wishes for their success in their new sphere.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The British Colonist of July 6, 1870.)

The Canadian Premier—Sir John A. Macdonald is rapidly regaining his health and has been invited by the delegates to visit British Columbia. We understand that His Excellency the Governor has invited the distinguished gentleman to accept of the hospitalities of Government House should he come, and that there is a very strong probability that he will accompany Messrs. Helmcken and Carrall upon their return to Victoria. Sir John would be warmly welcomed.

Dined With Prince—The investiture of Prince Arthur with the order of St. Michael and St. George at Montreal, was a grand affair. The British Columbia delegates were present by special invitation and in the evening dined with the Prince at his private residence.

Hot—The weather yesterday was more than warm—it was blistering hot. It would have grilled a Hottentot. The mercury at 12 o'clock stood at [illegible] degrees in the sun, and at the same time at [illegible] degrees in the shade. The stock of ice is running low. What shall we do if it runs out entirely?

IN THE COURTS

County Court

His Honor Judge Lampman rendered his decision yesterday in the case of Bevan vs. Jones, recently tried in the County Court. The plaintiff's claim was for a share of profits as a result of cattle dealing on the Lillooet ranch operated by the late Dr. O. M. Jones. The decision of the learned judge found that the ranch was the property of Mrs. Jones, although it had been solely operated by the late doctor; and that the arrangement upon which the plaintiff had based his action was not sufficiently definite to make the estate of the doctor chargeable with the claim. The action was accordingly dismissed. Mr. R. L. Maitland appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. A. P. Luxton, K.C., for the defendant.

ENGINEERS VISIT ELECTRICAL WORKS

Members of Victoria Branch of Engineering Institute of Canada Guests of B.C. Electric at Jordan River

Members of the Victoria branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada were the guests of the B.C. Electric Railway Company at Jordan River on Saturday, when the party, about 30 strong, including engineers well known to the public of Victoria, were conducted over the works from which the district obtains its main supply of electrical energy.

Leaving Victoria at 8 a.m. by motor cars, Jordan River, a distance of 43 miles by road, was reached at 10 o'clock, which is an indication of the excellent condition in which the roads were found.

Upon reaching its destination the inspection was commenced at the Power House, situated near sea level, and in which the 4,000 h.p. Pelton wheels are installed and driven by the water which is conducted to them through steel pipes laid up the hillside from the forebay at an elevation of 1,150 feet above the sea.

After inspecting the 40,000 h.p. of humming generators and other machinery in the power house, the visitors ascended by means of the inclined railway to the forebay, or balancing reservoir, and after admiring the wonderful outlook across the Straits to the Olympic Mountains and to the Pacific Ocean, sat down to a table temptingly set for lunch.

Guests Return Thanks

It was after the appetites had been satisfied that Mr. A. E. Foreman, M.E.I.C., public works engineer and chairman of the Victoria Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, rose in his place to express the thanks of the visitors to the company whose guests they were, and particularly to those officials present, Mr. A. T. Goward, manager, and Mr. G. M. Tripp, A.M.E.I.C., E. N. Horsey, A.M.E.I.C., and Mr. C. A. Cornwall, M.E.I.C. (of the engineering staff), who were so ably entertaining them and making them acquainted with the details of a most interesting engineering undertaking.

The remarks of the chairman were heartily endorsed by the gathering in the usual way, and Mr. Goward replied for the company and officials, who, he said, were only too pleased to be given the chance to show to the public through the gentlemen present, who could appraise the undertaking at its proper value, and who would be able to speak of the immense amount of capital sunk in the work by the company.

Visit Reservoir

After lunch, aboard motor and horse-drawn cars on a narrow gauge railway, the trip was made to the concrete dam, six miles away. A six-mile scenic railway journey following the contour of the hillside and alongside the flume through which the water flows from the dam to the forebay; up the narrow valley, with its steep and thickly timbered slopes, a new view exposed as each corner was rounded, to the huge concrete construction which holds back the water, thus making a lake some three or four miles long, at an elevation of 1,450 feet above the sea.

One remark was very general by all those attending, that both the company and the public were losers by the lack of knowledge of the work done at Jordan River to provide the energy, which, after being received through the forty odd miles of transmission lines and adapted to public needs, is so unconcernedly switched on to drive a vacuum cleaner or similar convenience.

The return journey was commenced after a most enjoyable day, everyone feeling that it had been worth while making the trip, both to properly appreciate the magnitude of the undertaking from an engineering standpoint, and also to realize the very large amount of money that had been spent by the company to develop natural resources within a few miles of the city, and about which little was known. It was about 7 p.m. when the cars reached town again.

EXPROPRIATION NOW AWAITS COUNCIL'S O.K.

By-Law Will Be Ready for Next Meeting — City Will Not Recognize Quarrel Over Former Arbitration Price

City Solicitor H. S. Pringle is now preparing a by-law to authorize the City Council to proceed at once with the expropriation of the property required for the approaches to the Johnson Street bridge.

The by-law was to go before the City Council at its special session last Friday, but information on an important detail was lacking, and delay was necessary until the engineering department is able to obtain the required data. The Council will probably be in a position to act on the by-law at its next meeting, which may not be for a week.

"There is no alternative course," said Mayor Porter yesterday, in discussing the city's intention to expropriate. "The owners of the land still argue that the expropriation price decided upon by the arbitration board when the Provincial Government undertook to buy the property is still binding, even though the present Government does repudiate that. This dispute has nothing to do with us, however. We can deal only with the registered owner of the property, and that is what we propose to do. If the quarrel continues between the present owners and the Government, they can fight it out in the courts. We must have the property and we are going ahead with the expropriation."

"Before preparing the by-law, we want to know exactly what land is required," said City Solicitor Pringle. "That is what is holding us back just at present. The surveying is still going on."

WHERE TO REGISTER

Electors of Victoria, Esquimalt and Saanich desirous of getting their names on the new Provincial voters' list, now in course of compilation, may register at the following places in the three ridings:

Victoria District

Central—St. Francis Hotel, lower Yates Street, north side.
Victoria West—414 Skinner Street.
Douglas and Burnside—657 Burnside Road.
Hillside Avenue, east—2784 Cedar Hill Road.
Fernwood and Gladstone—1302 Gladstone Avenue.
Oak Bay Junction — Brook's Store.
Fairfield—249 Cook Street.
James Bay—Niagara and Menzies Streets.

Esquimalt District

Sailors' Home, corner of Admiral's Road and Esquimalt Road.

Saanich District

Chave's store, corner of Holeskin and Saanich Roads.
Riley's Drug Store, corner Saanich Road and Cloverdale Avenue.
McLeod's store, corner of Tillicum and Gorge Roads.
Tomes' Shoe Shop, Burnside Road.
A. E. Horner's store, Mount Tolmie.
Municipal Hall, Royal Oak.
Oak Bay Municipal Hall.
And at the following post offices throughout the riding: Sluggett's, Saanichton, Colquitz, Mount Tolmie and Royal Oak.

BUT NINE MORE DAYS FOR REGISTRATION

Only About Forty Per Cent of Qualified Electors of City Have Registered Within the Last Twenty-Five Days

With but nine more days available to electors desirous of getting their names on the voters' list being now completed under the new Provincial Elections Act passed at the last session of the Legislature, it is estimated that not more than forty per cent of the total qualified electorate in Victoria has as yet made application. Up to Saturday night the total of applications received was 11,236, and yesterday probably 400 more were added to the list.

Registration closes on the 15th inst., and unless there is a big daily rush from now until then there will be a large percentage of the qualified voters, male and female, of the city who will not have a vote on the forthcoming Prohibition referendum scheduled for early in November, nor at any Provincial election that may be held before the end of the present year.

The apathy on the part of the largest portion of the electorate is something Registrar Mahon cannot account for. At first he figured that, as usual, Victorians were holding back until the eleventh hour, when a rush would begin. But so far there is no evidence that any rush is in sight, and at the present rate of going not one-half the qualified electors will have their names on the list. Registration has now been under way for twenty-five days.

In Esquimalt the total up to Saturday night was 1,628, which, while not wholly satisfactory, is a better percentage than is shown by the city.

In Saanich the total up to Saturday night was 3,570, and yesterday probably 150 were added.

TAX ON OVER-DRAFTS

Ottawa Lays Down Rule Under Which Luxury Tax Shall Be Imposed Upon Over-Drawn Accounts

The application of the new luxury tax to bank over-drafts was the subject of a message received yesterday by Mr. Richard Jones, local collector of inland revenue, from Ottawa in response to his recent query asking if the tax on bank over-drafts was to be collected on the minimum daily, monthly or other balance, and whether, in collecting the tax, should stamps be affixed to a debit slip against the customer's account or could the amount be remitted by cheque. In reply came the following message:

"Act provides that when an advance is made by bank to person by way of over-draft, bank is required to prepare monthly statement showing maximum amount of over-draft outstanding at close of business on any day during the month, and shall affix to statement stamp to the value of two cents for each $100 or fraction thereof of such maximum amount. Bank is required to render statement to person receiving advance, and amount of stamps so affixed thereupon payable by person to bank. Over-draft not regarded as outstanding until fourth day on which amount is over-drawn."

WATCH YOUR GUMS—BLEEDING A SIGN OF TROUBLE

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the forerunners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons generated at their base — poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. They cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia and many other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist often for tooth inspection and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentrifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

CUMBERLAND MAN TO ADDRESS TRADE BOARD

Quarterly Luncheon to Be Featured by Discussion of Up-Island Problems—To Encourage Harmony

Mr. George Clinton, president of the Cumberland Board of Trade, will be one of the principal speakers at the regular quarterly luncheon of the Board of Trade Friday noon at the Dominion Hotel, it was announced yesterday.

The commercial possibilities and present attainments of the country surrounding Cumberland will be dealt with by Mr. Clinton in his address, which will be the first of a series to be delivered before the Victoria Board of Trade by officers of up-Island boards. The idea of having such a series undertaken was conceived with a view to bringing closer together the various up-Island communities with Victoria, so that they may be able to work more harmoniously in matters affecting the interests of the whole Island.

In addition to the address of Mr. Clinton and others to be announced later, a considerable amount of general routine business will be transacted at the luncheon.

NEW MEMBERS CALLED TO PROVINCIAL BAR

Judge Gregory Welcomes Seventeen New Recruits to Practice in Province—Lady Seventh Woman Admitted

At eleven o'clock yesterday morning in the Assize courtroom of the Victoria Court House Mr. Justice Gregory welcomed seventeen new members to the bar of British Columbia. Mr. Harold B. Robertson, on behalf of the Benchers of the Law Society of British Columbia, performed the ceremony of introduction. One lady, Miss Christy Anne Sutherland, was among the ranks of the recruits. Miss Sutherland was both called to the bar and admitted as a solicitor. Thirteen in all of the new members were both called to the bar and admitted as solicitors. Two others were called to the bar only and two were admitted as solicitors only.

Mr. Justice Gregory, in a short speech of welcome, said that the new members of the British Columbia bar had chosen, in his opinion, one of the most honorable of all professions. He hoped they would preserve its best traditions. He trusted they would all make themselves known to him personally. He had great pleasure in greeting them on the threshold of their careers.

The following members were both called to the bar and admitted as solicitors: Miss Christy Anne Sutherland and Messrs. Maurice Gordon Thomson, Patrick John Paterson Sinnott, Joseph Frederick Downs, George Lovat Fraser, Victor George Meakin, Joseph McKenna, David Thomas Staples, Frederick Cecil Aubrey, Albert Henry Young, Arthur Augustus Milledge, Clarence Landon Murdoff and Alexander Laird.

Messrs. Thorwald Theodore Chose and John Robertson were called to the bar and Messrs. John Oswald Gill and Percivale Robert Leighton were admitted as solicitors.

Messrs. Sinnott, Meakin, Staples and Leighton are of this city. Miss Sutherland is a resident of Vancouver. Her admission to the rolls of the Provincial Bar brings the number of women lawyers in British Columbia up to seven.

Students, don't slip behind during the Summer. Make the vacation months pay. Summer School classes open Monday next. Telephone 28 for particulars today.

NEW AMBASSADOR AND PRESIDENT EBERT

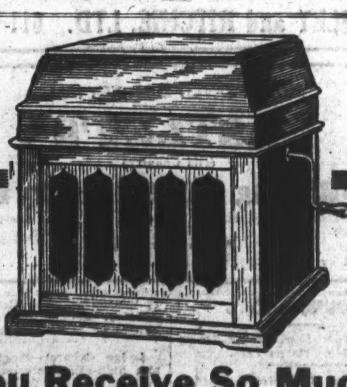

BERLIN, July 5.—Lord D'Abernon, the newly-appointed British Ambassador to Germany, presented his credentials to President Ebert yesterday.

He declared that "the world crisis will be overcome only by general collaboration, of which the basis is maintenance of firm, friendly alliances and strict execution of the peace treaty."

He asserted that in accepting the task of restoring relations between the two great nations he counted on the goodwill and collaboration of the German Government.

President Ebert replied that the German people shared the firm resolution of their Government to face their obligations to the limit.

Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, Victoria Unit. The Monthly General Meeting will be held in the Assembly Room, Hamley Building, at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, July 8, 1920. Important business, including election of First Vice-President. All members urged to attend.

City and District in Brief

Guild of Health—Rev. T. E. Rowe will be in the Cathedral schoolroom on Wednesday morning from 10 to 12 to meet those who desire his help.

The Legal Profession—During the court vacation, which includes July and August, the members of the legal profession, as is customary, will close their offices at 4 o'clock each afternoon.

Group Picture—Ladies' Auxiliary to the Army and Navy Veterans are requested to meet at the Empress Hotel on Thursday next at 3 p.m. for the purpose of having a group picture taken.

Meet This Morning—The Friendly Help Association will hold its regular monthly meeting this (Tuesday) morning, July 6, at 10:30, in rooms (upstairs), Market Building, Cormorant Street.

That Old Offender—After a short period of comparative quiescence, the Ancient Demon came rampant into the city police court yesterday in the persons of five votaries of the inebriating cup. They all pleaded guilty, and were each fined $5.

Forged Signature—The police are looking for the individual who forged the signature of Mrs. C. P. Rossiter, of 844 Johnston Street, to a Canadian Express money order and recently passed it at the local office of the Dominion Express Company. The order was for $17.70.

Commercial Travelers—The Victoria Council of United Commercial Travelers will hold their flannel dance on Friday, July 16, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 724 Fort Street. Newitt's orchestra has been engaged to dispense the music, and a good time as usual is promised all those who attend.

Purloined Plumbing—A thief within the past few days purloined from the residence at 2620 Douglas Street, the bath tub, wash basin and other plumbing fixtures. The property was bought in by the city at the last tax sale and has been standing vacant. City Comptroller Raymur reported the theft to the police yesterday.

Sale of Work—At St. Mary Magdalene Mission Hall, Gosworth Road, there will be a sale of plain and fancy needlework and home cooking on the afternoon of Thursday, July 8. Afternoon tea, ice cream, fishpond, butterfly painting contest, etc., are arranged as part of the afternoon's diversions. The sale will be opened by the Very Rev. Dean Quainton at 3 o'clock.

Unveiling Memorial—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, will officiate at the formal unveiling next Friday afternoon of the memorial tablet erected by the people of St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, to the boys from that parish who made the supreme sacrifice in the late war. The tablet contains forty-two names. Colonel the Rev. G. H. Andrews will conduct the service.

Fine Stand of Wheat—Mr. C. Sorby calls attention to an excellent example of profitable cultivation of a vacant lot which is to be seen on the property of Mr. Richard Jones on the north side of Quebec Street, near the Parliament Buildings and C. P. R. Wharf. "The perfect growth of this stand of fall wheat, within a few minutes' walk of the Post Office, is a sight worth noting," he observes.

Premier on Mainland—Premier Oliver went over to the Mainland on Sunday afternoon and yesterday paid a visit to Squamish, the tidewater terminus of the P.G.E. Railway, where he investigated on the ground the effect of granting applications recently made for booming privileges in the harbor there. While away he will look into other matters affecting the railway, and will return to Victoria tomorrow morning.

Grocery Prizes for Drive—Following their regular business session last evening, members of Lodge 83, Victoria Order Daughters of St. George, with their friends, spent an enjoyable time at whist, about a dozen tables being engaged in play. Play continued until 11 o'clock, three very desirable grocery prizes being awarded the winners. The committee in charge of the arrangements numbered Sisters Cochenour, Geiger and King.

No Fire—Some excited individual who thought he saw smoke issuing from the upper windows of the Weiler factory on Broad Street, between Fort and Broughton Streets, rang in a fire alarm yesterday shortly before 1 o'clock, calling out the fire apparatus. It was not smoke he saw but dust, the product of a beating workmen in the factory were administering to a mattress. The department was summoned in the afternoon to 814 Johnson Street, where a rubbish fire in the back yard required attention.

Vancouver Cadet Camp—The staff of the Vancouver Cadet camp, which commenced at the Terminal City yesterday, is as follows: Commandant, Major L. C. Goodeve, D.S.O.; D.A.A. and Q.M.G., Major G. Sisman; chief instructor, Captain A. C. Bundy; medical officer, Lieut.-Col. W. H. K. Anderson; camp sergeant-major, Sergt.-Major B. Coffin, P.P.C.L.I.; camp Q.M.S. and camp clerk, Staff-Sergt. P. L. Sampson, C.M.S.C.; three instructors, C.S.M., J. A. Little, R.C.R.; C.S.M., S. J. Perry, R.C.R., and Sergt. C. A. Dadds, R.C.R.

Entertain Aged Women—Last evening the Young People's Society of the Emmanuel Baptist Church gave a very enjoyable entertainment at the Aged and Infirm Women's Home. At the close of a most excellent programme refreshments were served by the young ladies of the church. Those who took part in the programme are as follows: Solo, Miss Mabel Sheepwash; violin solo, Miss Jessie Byrd; comic Irish ditty, Mr. George Francis; pianoforte solo, Miss M. Shampenny; solo, Miss Violet Parfitt; recitation, Miss O. Sherwood; harp selection, Mr. Robert Jones; comic Scotch song, Mr. Harry Crowther; coronet solo, Mr. George Green; solo, Miss Evelyn Clapham.

Bather Has Fright—A gentleman bathing in McKenzie Bay, Saanich Inlet, Sunday, had a bad fright through being attacked while in the water by what was supposed at the time to be a wolf fish. The first intimation that a marauder was about came with a tug at the bather's costume. Scenting danger, the man began to swim frantically towards shore. The attack was renewed, this time the bather's foot being seized within the jaws of the vicious denizen of the sea. Although painful scratches were evidence of the attack, the bather managed to effect his escape without serious injury. In the excitement which was caused by the occurrence the man's name was not ascertained.

Collision on Malahat—In a collision on the Malahat Road on Sunday afternoon at 4:15 between the motor car driven by Dr. Bryant and that by G. Motion, driver for the Boulton Taxi Stand, considerable damage to both cars was done, but none of the occupants were injured. The collision occurred at a narrow part of the road about two miles north of the Summit. Dr. Bryant was coming down grade and in passing struck the other car, in which were a number of visitors out sightseeing. Dr. Bryant's car suffered a broken front wheel and a bent axle, while the other machine had its right running board and fenders ripped off and other damage done.

Cyclists Injured—Edward McKay and Harry Picca, cyclists, collided with the Sidney motor stage on Sunday night shortly after 11 o'clock, near the Royal Oak. Picca suffered from concussion and was brought in to St. Joseph's Hospital by a passing motor. The cyclists stated they were traveling south on the proper side of the road and that the motor, traveling at a rapid rate, was cutting the corner to get onto the Royal Oak hill. It is alleged by the driver of the stage that the cyclists were riding without lights and were not on the proper side of the roadway. He failed to see them until too late to avoid an accident. McKay was not injured, but Picca was apparently struck by the fender of the stage. Picca was semi-conscious when picked up and the driver of the stage paid for his trip to the hospital.

British-Israelites

Sir,—The controversy on British-Israelism has caused much interest to many of your readers, and with your permission I would like to say a little upon this important question. I agree with Mr. Streatfield that "the theory that the Saxons were Scythians and Scythians Israelites cannot be proved." Mr. F. V. Venables' letter of July 3rd in support of the popular theory is not convincing, and his reference to Sharon Turner's History of the Anglo-Saxons should be taken with caution for that writer is by no means positive on this point. Josephus, the Jewish historian, had a much better chance of knowing than had Mr. Turner and he shows clearly the origin of the Scythians and of the Israelites. In Antiquities, chapter V., he says "Magog (grandson of Noah) founded those that from him were named Magogites, but who are by the Greeks called Scythians." Whereas he shows the twelve tribes were of Shemitic origin. Furthermore we learn from Heroditus that the Scythians were in Northern Asia when the Kingdom of Ephraim fell and centuries before Christ. And Josephus, who wrote early in the first century, tells us—Antiquities, Book 11, Chapter V—"there are but two tribes in Asia and Europe subject to the Romans (Judah and Benjamin), while the ten tribes are beyond the Euphrates till now and are an immense multitude, not to be estimated by number." This clearly proves the ten tribes were not lost in the first century, whereas our British-Israel friends have them lost seven centuries before this.

We challenge the statement of Mr. Venables that "Israel in the Bible never means Jew." The truth is the term Jew came in course of time to denote the whole twelve tribes, and we often find the words used interchangeably. In Acts xxii, verse 3, Paul says, "I am a Jew," and in Romans xi, verse 1, "I am an Israelite." Christ is referred to as "King of the Jews" and "King of Israel." Josephus speaks of the "Jews who came out of Egypt" and of David, the "King of the Jews," etc. And the words seem to be applied in the same way as we use the words English and British.

The statement made by Mr. Venables that the testimony in support of the theory that the British Royal House are descendants of David "has been wrought out very convincingly" is news to me; and the proof of this statement would, I am sure, interest your readers. In the meantime I would ask him how he reconciles the above with the fact; that the throne of David was divinely overturned in the reign of Hedekiah, and was to remain so "until He should come whose right it is"—Eskiel xxi, 25-27. Christ is the rightful heir—Luke 1,32-33—therefore David's throne still remains in the dust. Jeremiah xxxiii, verse 17, quoted by Mr. Venables, is a proof of this, for it is to this period the prophet refers. When Judah shall be saved and Jerusalem dwell safely—verse 16—when the righteous branch shall grow up to David—verse 15. This prophecy can only be applied to the Royal House of Britain by wresting verse 17 away from the context. We must leave Mr. Venables in full possession of the various proofs of our British-Israel origin he finds in the Anglican Prayer-book, and trust he will forgive the writer for refusing to look upon it as having any value in a controversy dealing with British-Israelism.

G. W. V. A. Band

Sir,—It was good to see the evident enjoyment of the crowds who thronged Beacon Hill Park on Sunday to hear the band, as they sat or sauntered about amidst those lovely surroundings, on an ideal Summer day, but to my mind one trifle was missing, namely a programme of the music. If one were attached to the bandstand giving number, name and composer of the different items, written or typed legibly, I think it would enhance the pleasure for those who always like to know what is being played. And to have the name of a familiar air elude one, how maddening it is.

Should this letter meet the eye of the bandmaster and he be induced to carry out the above suggestion this letter will not have been written in vain.

HARRIET MONTSERRAT.

Registration

Sir,—To those that are too lazy to register their vote under the best franchise law we ever had here, is there any use reminding them that they have only ten days left? There are hundreds of grumblers who will not take the trouble to register their votes. I will not mention women, as such, as they are more alive than men. He would sooner live and have a grievous something that he can find fault with. Thousands are everlastingly finding fault with our laws, and they never seem to realize that the power to make better laws is in our own hands by putting honest, competent men or women in our Legislature to make better laws, if laws are bad. An important question will soon come before the voters. The first question is likely to be prohibition. What will the prohibitionist say, that both prohibition and moderation are bad? No fear of that; he will stick to his idol like a barnacle to a rock. He loves compulsion. He likes the smell of the days when they used to burn the witches. While the moderators are asleep and will not even take the trouble to register their votes. The prohibition club will be serving with vigor among bootleggers, moonshiners and smugglers, and individual liberty, for a time will be under a cloud.

Weather and Prosperity

The theory of Sir William Beveridge that prices and periods of depression are influenced by barometric pressure is not altogether new with him, but he has not previously given it out with confidence. He believes that he has discovered that there is a fifteen-sixteen year periodicity period in barometric pressures, that the years of low pressure are years of poor harvests, and that the poor harvests coincide with and indeed are productive of depression in trade. That is a bold and fascinating speculation. More, at present, it can scarcely be said to be. Incidentally, one notes, as no more than a coincidence, that the fifteen-sixteen year period is strikingly near to the seven abundant and seven lean years of Pharoh's dream. If we could establish any such definite relations between the weather and prosperity we might make suitable provision for the bad years, although anticipations would always be liable to be upset by such happenings as war. There is sufficient probability inherent in Sir William Beveridge's speculation to make it worth while to pursue them, and we agree with him that this research should be carried out more systematically than is possible in the case of a single investigator.—Westminster Gazette.

St. Dunstan's Way

How the blind soldier trained at St. Dunstan's becomes the captain of his soul is the pride and rightful boast of that institution. The men learn to regard their handicap (it is never called an affliction) with philosophical humor. "How do you manage to feed yourself? How do you find your mouth?" inquired an incautious visitor. Swift came the retort: "You have only seen your mouth in a looking-glass." A sightless sergeant in charge of one of the dormitories, heard the striking of a match, suggestive of smoking in prohibited hours. "What's that?" he demanded sternly. "It's all right, sergeant," was the reply; "I'm only looking for my collar stud." St. Dunstan's should assemble its Book of Brave Mirth.—London Morning Post.

TEACHERS' SUMMER SCHOOL OPENS HERE

Over Two Hundred Pedagogues Will Attend Classes Which Opened Yesterday at High School

The Summer school for teachers opened its sessions yesterday morning at the Victoria High School under the direction of Mr. J. W. Gibson, Director of Agricultural Education. Up to date 150 teachers have registered for the course and it is expected a total of over 200 will be registered by this evening. Teachers from all over the Province are attending the school.

For a number of years past Summer schools have been held under the auspices of the Provincial Department of Education, the purpose being to train teachers in various supplementary subjects dealt with in their regular teaching course.

In addition to the school here there are classes being held at Vancouver at the University of B. C. Professor Sedgwick, of the University, is in charge of those classes.

CROWDS ATTEST GREAT POPULARITY OF BAND

If any of the City Fathers were present at the G.W.V.A. band concert on Sunday afternoon at Beacon Hill Park it must have been a pleasure to them to see how these concerts are appreciated.

Hundreds of people were in the park, and remained during the whole of the concert. The band was in great shape, and did justice to the splendid programme arranged by Bandmaster Miller. Every number on the programme received splendid applause, which must have been very encouraging to the bandmaster and bandsmen.

The G.W.V.A. apparently have a good band, and every credit is due them for what they have accomplished in this respect.

The public doubtless will look forward with pleasure to the series of concerts to be given by this band.

MAN KILLED IN YARD ACCIDENT

Harold Quarmby Received Fatal Injuries When Huge Derrick at Cholberg Shipyard Topples Under Strain

Giving way under the strain of lifting timbers from the water to the mill, the huge derrick at the Cholberg Shipyard, said to be the largest of its kind on the Island, toppled over yesterday afternoon, and the stiff leg which braced it fell upon the top of the engine house, crushing it down upon the fireman, Harold Quarmby, who died last night from injuries received.

Although the engineer was standing close to Quarmby at the time, according to reports, he was not touched. The injured man was rushed to the St. Joseph's Hospital. This was about four o'clock. He died a couple of hours later. Reports state that his lungs were pierced by broken ribs. It is also understood that he had an arm and a leg broken. Harold Quarmby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Quarmby, 891 Lampson Street. He is a returned man, believed to be about 25 to 30 years of age, and was known to have been badly shell-shocked.

The derrick has a boom over 125 feet in length. The equipment was purchased from the Foundation Company by the Cholberg Yard and set up so that it might lift timber from the railway cars into the water, and also from the water to the mill. The engine house was right under the stiff leg which stretched from the mast of the derrick to the railway grading close by. The derrick had been strengthened on Sunday. It was lifting a timber from the water between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when something gave way and the mast and boom toppled over, while the stiff leg fell to the ground, as stated, crashing into the engine-house, where the engineer and Quarmby are said to have been. The yard nurse attended to the injured man until the arrival of Dr. Bechtel, who removed him to the hospital in the ambulance.

SUPERANNUATION

Lack of Quorum Prevents Civil Servants From Discussing Subject at Meeting Last Night

Lack of a quorum prevented those members of the Victoria Branch of the Provincial Civil Service Association who put in an appearance from formally discussing the question of superannuation which was the chief item of business before the meeting scheduled for last night in the Comrades Hall, Douglas Street. The discussion was to have been preliminary to the branch submitting to the Civil Service Commissioner its recommendations relative to the subject which will form the basis for legislation to be brought down at the next session of the Legislature and to inquire into which it was provided that an investigation should be made during the Summer. The Civil Service Association has secured a copy of the Ontario Act relating to the superannuation of civil servants and it is the hope that some of the provisions of that measure will be incorporated in any act that may be enacted for this Province.

The annual convention of the Provincial Civil Service Association will be held on the 24th inst. at Vancouver. President Fred. Mackenzie, of the Victoria branch, will preside. The Victoria branch will be represented by Messrs. A. B. McNeil, A. Manson and H. B. French. Mr. George Pilmer, secretary of the Victoria branch, is also secretary of the Provincial organization.

FOUND DROWNED OFF DALLAS ROAD BEACH

Body of Mr. Thomas Charles Nelson Recovered From Water—Death Probably Accidental

The body of Thomas Charles Nelson, of 437 Parry Street, was found drowned yesterday morning at the foot of the embankment at the corner of Dallas Road and Menzies Street and removed to the B. C. Funeral Parlors, where an inquest will be held this morning by Coroner Dr. Hart.

The deceased was 65 years of age and a native of England, and is survived by his widow, also a son, C. T. Nelson, wholesale grocery broker, of Yates Street; and a daughter, Mrs. J. C. McKee, of California. Mr. Nelson has been a resident of this city for the past 18 years, and came to Canada about 45 years ago. For some time he was in the employ of the Provincial Government at the Parliament Buildings.

Deceased took breakfast as usual with his wife and son shortly after 8 o'clock and after the meal, Mr. J. C. Nelson having left for his office, spent a short time in the garden with his wife. He then said he thought he would go for a walk as it was such a fine morning. This was the last seen of him alive, and as deceased was somewhat uncertain on his feet, walking with hesitancy, it is supposed that in making his way over the rocks on the waterfront he fell in, with fatal results. The late Mr. Nelson had always been an active worker in Conservative interests.

OBITUARY NOTICES

MARWICK—The funeral of the late Robert Marwick took place yesterday from the late residence, 1341 McNair Street, where service was conducted by the Rev. Jos. McCoy. There was a large attendance of friends, and many beautiful floral tributes covered the casket. The remains were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. J. Heaney, H. Klesow, A. Barry, L. Peterson, D. Kennedy and A. Wilson.

ELLIOTT—The remains of the late George Elliott were laid to rest in St. Luke's Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral, which was under the auspices of St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 49, A. F. and A. M., took place from the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 3:45, where service was conducted by Rev. G. A. Wells. There was a large attendance, including the Masons, which attended in a body, and a large delegation from the Pacific Club, both of members and employees. At the conclusion of the service at the chapel the cortege wended its way to St. Luke's Cemetery, at Cedar Hill, where the Masonic service was conducted by Bro. M. J. Little, of St. Andrew's Lodge. The hymn sung was "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." The pallbearers were Wor. Bro. E. P. N. Allen, Bro. W. H. Wise, Bro. Arthur H. Tobin, Bro. G. Donne, Bro. J. Black and Bro. S. M. Morton.

HEMINGWAY—The remains of the late Mrs. Eleanor Hemingway, beloved wife of Mr. Arthur Hemingway, of 615 Elliott Street, who was accidentally killed at Duncan on Saturday, will be laid to rest this afternoon. The funeral will leave the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2:15, proceeding to the Metropolitan Church, where service will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Batty at 2:30 o'clock.

VENNER—The death occurred yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital of Helen Venner, beloved wife of George Venner, of 2529 Garden Street. She was born in Manitoba twenty-two years ago, and had resided in this city for the past seven years. She leaves to mourn their loss her husband, one daughter, her father and mother, also six brothers and six sisters. Mrs. E. P. F. Roe, Misses Caroline, the Misses Mary, Dorothy, Annie and Edith Nex, Messrs. Alfred, Richard, Albert, Frederick and Sidney Nex, all of this city, and Mr. Philip Nex, of Vancouver. The remains are reposing at the Sands Funeral Parlors, where the funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

CHAN—The death took place at the Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday morning, of Samuel Chan, the eighteen-year-old son of Chan Sui, of 1618 Government Street. The remains are reposing at the Sands Funeral Parlors, from where the funeral will take place July 7, at 3:30 o'clock. Interment in Ross Bay Cemetery.

DECIDE TO REOPEN AS MILITARY SCHOOL

Institution at Mt. Tolmie Announces Intention of Reorganizing After Holidays—School Magazine Out

The University School management has decided to reopen after the Summer holidays as a military school. The parents were evidently appealed to before the decision was made, and it was with their assent that the change is being introduced.

Other slight changes are being made. Harvey House is to be opened for the Juniors, and the school house will become the Old East and West Houses.

"Black and Red," the school magazine, has just come from the publishers' hands, and a review of the year's doings shows the very high standing of the institution in matters athletic as well as scholastic. It is probably the institution's reputation in the former which has tended to the decision to reorganize as a military school. Items are devoted to the band, the cadet corps, physical training as it is carried on in the school, cricket, boxing, tennis, shooting. The photographs of the winning teams and the prominent athletes, boxers, runners, etc., furnish very interesting illustrative matter.

EXAMINES PROGRESS ON SETTLEMENT AREA

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, Pleased With Work Being Done on Government Area in South Okanagan

Following an investigation of the progress of the work on the new settlement area at Osoyoos irr company with Water Comptroller Cleveland, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, returned to the city yesterday morning. He stated he was greatly pleased with the progress of the development work, the chief item of which was the construction of a main irrigation ditch by which water will be carried from the Okanagan River to the area. It is his hope that part of the tract upon which it is expected returned soldiers will be largely settled, will be thrown open before the end of the present yar as well as part of the townsite. Later it is proposed to select the name of the townsite by means of a public competition. At present about 500 men, mostly returned men, are employed on the development work. It is expected that shortly the Kettle Valley Railway company will inaugurate work on the extension which will carry its line from the present system near Okanagan Falls to the area. The Government will remove the present government agency from Fairview to the new townsite.

Irrigation questions occupied the attention of the Minister at other points, notably at Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton and Walhachin. The department is endeavoring to as rapidly as possible clean up the irrigation situation, one rendered difficult by the financial difficulties into which many of the companies got in the period following the boom. In a number of instances funds have been advanced to companies to assist them to carry on and maintain a supply of water to water users. Investigations have been underway by experts of the department in various districts and it is hoped that by Fall the organization will be completed to the point where by the formation of water districts the irrigation systems can be taken over by the districts and operated by them.

Mr. Cleveland did not return with Mr. Pattullo, but went east to Calgary where he will meet Professor Dresser, who will head the party of experts who will go into the area south of the Peace River Block, and carry on the investigations inaugurated by the Department last year under Professor Gwillim into the petroleum possibilities of that section.

SCHOOL INSPECTOR TO BE APPOINTED NOW

Selection of Man to Supervise City's Educational System Is Present Concern of Trustees—Salary Issue

Having appointed a principal and staff for the new college at the High School in affiliation with the University of British Columbia and a new principal for the High School to succeed Mr. Alexander G. Smith, whose resignation takes place at the end of this month, the School Board will now focus its judgment on the choice of a new municipal inspector of schools.

Nomination of a new inspector of schools is necessitated by the resignation of Mr. Edward B. Paul, who has been selected as principal of the affiliated college. The School Board will have a wide choice, as a large number of applications have been sent in since the announcement was made of Mr. Paul's retirement. All sections of the country are represented by the candidates for the position. Several of the defeated candidates for principal of the High School will probably be considered by the Board in making the appointment of municipal inspector.

The other big issue before the School Board at present, namely, the teachers' salary question, will probably be finally dealt with at the next meeting. It is unlikely that any meeting will be held this week, however. The teachers object to signing contracts binding them over the present financial board, as they wish to be free to negotiate with the 1921 Board. Several members of the School Board are agreeable to a revision of the contract plan, and at least two of the trustees favor abolition of the contract system altogether.

PLUNGED OVER BANK

Visiting Motorist Has Narrow Escape on Malahat Drive When Car Goes Over Bank

A remarkable escape from serious injury and possible death was experienced yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the driver of an American registered motor who, while rounding the bend in the roadway approaching the bridge on the Malahat Drive near the point where it meets the roadway running into Shawnigan Lake, drove over the embankment and dropped a distance of nearly twenty feet to the rocks below. Apparently something went wrong with the steering gear of the machine which plowed over the embankment. Peculiarly enough, the car was not badly damaged, though the chassis was somewhat shaken out of plumb and other minor damage done. At the time Mr. Thomas Kelway, of Kelway's Cafe, was approaching on the roadway behind and he alighted and assisted the driver of the motor, the latter escaping without a scratch. A few minutes later a Government motor truck laden with tackle used on Government work came along and after some trouble the stranded car was hauled back to the roadway, the driver proceeding up-Island to Duncan. The name of the driver of the motor was not obtained. The car number was 125628 Wa.

The heavy truck belonging to the Alexander Trucking Company, which went over the edge of the Malahat Drive last week, crashing down a distance of nearly seventy-five feet, turning over two or three times in the course of its descent and landing wheels up, is still on the spot where it fell. The driver, Mr. Alexander, had a remarkable escape, being carried down with his machine and escaping with nothing worse than a cut wrist and bruises.

Yesterday afternoon a motor driven by Mr. W. Harvey was ditched and overturned on the south side of Parson's Bridge. Apparently the driver by mistake put the machine in the reverse and it backed into the ditch. Mr. Harvey and his companion were not injured.

ACTIVITY IN NORTH

Settlers and Investors Are Pouring Into the Section Along Line of G.T.P. Railway

Tremendous activity at practically all points in the northern central portion of the Province along the line of the G.T.P. is reported by Mr. Stuart Henderson, K.C., who returned home yesterday after attending to legal business at the assizes at Prince George, at which he successfully defended a number of prisoners arraigned before the court. There has been a great influx of settlers who are looking for land in the great agricultural areas in the vicinity of Vanderhoof, Smithers, Hazelton and other points, says Mr. Henderson. The newcomers also include many men interested in mining, and at every point hotels were crowded to their utmost capacity, while incoming trains were also filled.

The northern part of the Province is attracting great attention, and it was to be noted that the new arrivals are looking to that section as the one offering the greatest inducement for settlement or investment of capital. On the Skeena preparations are being made for the annual run of salmon, though so far the sockeye run has not commenced.

CLEVELAND REGAINS LEAGUE LEADERSHIP

Batting of American Leaders Is Setting Fast Pace—New York, However, Has Better Pitching Staff

NEW YORK, July 5.—Cleveland regained the American League leadership from New York yesterday by administering Detroit's seventh straight defeat while the Yankees dropped their first game in ten to Washington. The heavy slugging of the two leaders is carrying them along at a fast pace, but Cleveland lacks the smooth pitching that New York possessed. Either Coveleskie or Bagby, the Cleveland star pitchers, has been called upon in every game for a week.

Cincinnati made a slight gain over Brooklyn for the National League leadership. Although the Reds are batting lightly, their pitchers held their opponents to an average of about 2 1-2 runs last week.

Brooklyn and Chicago both are doing good pitching again. Brooklyn has been batting lightly, but yesterday pounded out 21 hits for 18 runs in a double-header with Philadelphia.

Chicago, however, lost a battle for third place yesterday to St. Louis when four pitchers were unable to check the Cardinals.

The Boston Nationals continued their winning play of the previous week by timely batting. Philadelphia lacks scoring power. The Pittsburg twirlers are handicapped by light hitting. New York's slugging is offset by unsteady pitching.

The American League Chicago champions outbatted the league leaders last week, but were unable to attain the same winning pace. Close scores marked the Boston and Washington contests. Johnson, of the Senators, is in especially good form, pitching a three-hit and a no-hit game last week. St. Louis is displaying see-saw form. Detroit and Philadelphia are falling in the race. To advance one position, Detroit requires a gain that would nearly equal an advance from last to first place in the National League. The Athletics ended their losing streak of 18 games and then began another stretch of defeats.

ENGLISH ARTIST LECTURES ON RUSKIN

Beautiful Lantern Slides Used by Miss Emily Warren to Illustrate Her Talk at Provincial Library Last Night

Flowers, mountains, old Continental inns, trees—these were all found at one time or another in Miss Emily Warren's lecture on "The Homes and Haunts of Ruskin," at the Provincial Library last night. The subject proved so popular that many people were unable to get even standing room, and had to leave disappointed. The majority of the lantern slides which accompanied the lecture as illustrations were facsimiles of the paintings which the lecturer herself made for the book of the name, and made infinitely more graphic her references to some of the places which the great English writer visited during his lifetime. Those of Switzerland were particularly beautiful, and frequently the speaker was interrupted by applause when some fresh scenic surprise was projected on the screen. Her talk was interwoven with much about the work and personality of Ruskin as well as about the places at which he stayed.

Commencing with something of his early history, Miss Warren mentioned as his first important work "Modern Painters," proceeding from this to the outstanding incidents and achievements of his busy life. Many beautiful pictures of Switzerland held their associations with Ruskin's visits there. Lucerne he loved very much; at Chamonix he wrote "Unto This Last;" at Mornex, near Geneva, he wrote some of his first works on political economy, among them "Munera Pulveris." The lecturer had talked with the inn-keeper at this place, who had recalled that Ruskin was an agreeable visitor, but Wagner, who had stayed there also, had a reputation for possessing a more irascible temper. The Lake of Como, the Rigi, a village at the mouth of the Simplon Pass, and numerous other places in Switzerland where he had sojourned for a time were described and shown before the English writer's haunts in Italy were referred to.

"The Stones of Venice"

Ruskin loved Florence, and Venice even more, it seemed. Miss Warren spoke of being in Venice some years ago when a "Ruskin Commemoration" was being held there. On that occasion a Venetian gentleman had said there was no need in Venice for a Ruskin memorial; Ruskin lived in the very stones. Second to Venice in his affections came Verona.

Some of Ruskin's homes in England were described, and an excellent picture of Corpus Christi College, Oxford, where he lived after he accepted the Slade Professorship on Fine Arts, was shown. In 1871 he bought a cottage on Coniston Water, Brantwood, and the audience were given a fleeting glimpse into the study where he worked when he lived there, the desk, chair, books, and even his collection of Greek vases, arranged as he might have had them during his lifetime.

On his death on January 20, 1900, he was buried at Coniston, Collingwood, his biographer designing the cross for the grave so that symbols of all his activities are included thereon.

On the conclusion of her lecture Miss Warren told something about her experiences while painting the two memorial pictures which are now in the reading room at the Library at Ottawa. She had commenced these as the result of a chance visit to Westminster Abbey one morning when a Canadian battalion was placing its regimental colors there before going to France. The incident impressed her, and eventually she decided to paint a "composite" picture which would contain the colonels of all the Canadian units. The War Records office gave her a list o 83 names, and the task of getting portraits of all these officers kept her occupied for a long time. Reproductions of the completed picture, copies of which may be had on application to Mr. Charles St. Barbe at the Provincial Library, were shown by Miss Warren last night and created much interest.

NEW MOVEMENT GROWS

Local Branch of the Grand Army of United Veterans Now Boasts About 200 Members

There was a meeting last night of the local branch of the Grand Army of United Veterans, and 110 new names were added to the roll. Mr. R. P. McLernan, the president, occupied the chair, and announced that already the organization could boast about 200 members.

Comrade Pearce was elected on the board of directors to fill a vacancy, and Comrade Fleming was elected tyler. A committee of six was appointed to visit hospitals.

The chairman gave a brief address, calling special attention to the necessity of registering, and pointing out that a commissioner at the door would be glad to take any names. The secretary also spoke on the subject of registration.

The new organization, it was pointed out, is open to women as well as men, provided they have seen service with His Majesty's forces. Each member was urged to conduct an individual and vigorous campaign to increase the membership, and during this phase of organization meetings are to be held weekly, on Mondays, in the K. of P. Hall. The hope was expressed that steps would shortly be taken to carry out organization work in the three electoral districts on the Island.

The directors appointed a house committee to look about for suitable headquarters for the organization.

Vancouver Bars Open On Sunday

VANCOUVER, July 5.—Although the licence by-law under which bars were to be closed on Sunday came into effect on July 1, most of the near-beer saloons were open yesterday. At the police station it was stated that no summonses were issued, and that no instructions to enforce a closing of the bars had been received by the force.

PRETTY WEDDING AT MAYNE ISLAND

At the Church of St. Mary Magdalene, Mayne Island, on July 1, a pretty wedding took place in the presence of an assembly of intimate friends, when Canon Paddon and Rev. H. St. J. Payn officiated at the marriage of Wadham Locke Paddon, youngest son of Canon and Mrs. Paddon, and Miss Marian Evans, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evans, of Exton, Devonshire.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of Dr. Howard, Professor of Church History at McGill University, looked charming, simply gowned in white Georgette trimmed with exquisite Brussels lace, the gift of a family of Belgian refugees befriended by her parents during the war. She wore a large picture hat with flowing veil and carried a sheaf of white roses. Miss Doratheo Paddon, sister of the groom, who attended as bridesmaid, wore a becoming frock of pale blue bracaded Liberty taffeta, combined with pale pink Georgette, with large tulle hat to match, and carried a sheaf of pink columbine. The groom was supported by Mr. G. A. Maude, of Mayne Island. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Vicarage, where the happy couple received the congratulations of their friends, amongst whom were several who had come from Victoria for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Paddon left later in the day by launch for Brentwood, where they are spending a few days before leaving for their home in Telkwa.

Hamilton Boy Drowned

HAMILTON, Ont., July 5.—Ted Maynard, a 17-year-old boy, was drowned after clinging to an upturned boat in Lake Ontario for four hours. The 16-foot skiff in which he and Wayburn Matherson, another lad, and J. Baillie, 9 years old, were sailing, upset about 9 o'clock last night. The three clung to the boat and drifted for hours until their cries for help were heard ashore. Maynard went down before the rescue party reached the boat.

MANY PRESENT AT CATHEDRAL WEDDING

Miss Ada M. Wolfe on Saturday Became the Bride of Mr. W. K. Dorman—Beautiful Service

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Christ Church Cathedral on Saturday, July 3, when Ada Mary Wolfe, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wolfe, of 265 Bellville Street, was married to Wallace Keith Dorman, youngest son of the late Capt. W. H. and Mrs. Dorman, of Linden Avenue.

The church was beautifully decorated with white roses and Shasta daisies, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dean Quainton. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, attired in white Duchesse satin and Spanish lace and with veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. Her attendants were Miss Nellie Wolfe, in pink crepe de Chine and picture hat, and Miss Dorothy Wolfe, as flower girl, in white charmeuse satin. Both carried beautiful bouquets of pink carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Allen. The Mendelssohn Wedding March was played while the bride and her attendants entered the church.

The Reception

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, when upwards of eighty guests viewed the presents, which were most numerous and costly, having previously wished the happy couple good luck.

Miss Ada Mary Wolfe was for seven years in the Water Branch Department of the B. C. Government, and was the recipient of a magnificent pair of silver casseroles and fork from her colleagues. Sergt. W. K. Dorman served overseas with the C.M.R.'s, and received the Military Medal at Cambrai.

The happy pair left on the Seattle boat to spend their honeymoon in the Sound cities, Mrs. Dorman travelling in a costume of navy blue with picture hat. The gift of the bridegroom to the bride was a rope of La Tosca pearls; to Miss Nellie Wolfe, pearl earrings; to Miss Dorothy Wolfe, gold bracelet. The bride's present to the groom was a diamond and pearl stick pin.

On their return to Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dorman will be at home to all friends at No. 8 Central Park Apartments, Quadra Street.

Amongst the numerous guests attending the wedding was Mrs. Wm. Leverington, of East Burnaby, Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Warren, of Seattle, Wash.

WEDDINGS

McGimpsey-Cameron

Miss Marion Isabelle Cameron and Mr. Thomas Bryan McGimpsey, both of this city, were recently married in the First Presbyterian Church, Seattle, by Rev. D. O. Powers. Miss Cameron is the daughter of Mrs. C. Cameron, 1129 McKenzie Street. The groom is the son of Mr. S. McGimpsey, of this city. Mr. Robert Rideout, formerly of Victoria, acted as best man, while the bridesmaid was Miss L. Jeffrey, of Seattle. The bride, who was becomingly attired in a suit of navy blue with hat to match, was given away by Mr. John Cameron, her uncle, of Vancouver. She wore a set of white fox furs, the gift of the groom. Following the ceremony the couple left for Portland and returned to Victoria by way of Seattle and Vancouver. They will reside here.

Taylor-Proctor

The marriage of Winnifred Bertha Louise, youngest daughter of Mrs. Julia Proctor, of 563 David Street, to Joseph Taylor, of Seattle, Wash., president of the Pacific Coast District of the International Longshoremen's Association, was solemnized on Sunday afternoon at a quiet wedding celebrated at the home of the bride's mother, the Rev. William Stevenson officiating. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, C. C. Johns, was becomingly attired in a suit of cream serge, with a large picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas. Attending her as bridesmaid was her cousin, Miss Bessie Johns, wearing a pretty frock of white crepe de Chine, with pink hat, and carrying a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Two little nieces of the bride, Patricia K. Kirchin and Peggy Grant, acted as flower girls, dressed in white and carrying baskets of flowers. The groom was supported by the bride's cousin, Clarence Johns. Miss Ethel Johns, cousin of the bride, played the Wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left later in the afternoon for the South, where the honeymoon is being spent. On their return they wil live in Seattle.

PSYCHIC WORKER TO APPEAR HERE SHORTLY

Dr. Edward K. Earle, the world-renowned psychic, who is under contract to the British Psychic Research Society, of London, England, will make his first appearance in Victoria on Friday and Saturday nights at 8 o'clock, in K. of P. Hall, Labor Temple, where he will give wonderful convincing manifestations, demonstrating "The Continuity of Life," independent and automatic slate writing, tests, messages in different languages.

Dr. Earle will be assisted by Helen C. King, noted psychic, who will answer sealed questions. Dr. Earle, however, is not a stranger to many Victoria people who have made special trips to Seattle to see his wonderful phenomena.

Dr. Earle was very much disappointed in not being able to secure the Royal Theatre, owing to it being booked ahead, however, he will return again at some future time to give all those who desire and are unable to attend this engagement, a chance to witness his wonderful psychic powers.

CANADA HAS FINE TRAPSHOOTING TEAM

Members of Squad to Represent Dominion at Antwerp Made Splendid Scores in Tryout Competitions

Canada is sending a mighty fine team of trapshooters to the Olympic Games—a team that will command the respect of the United States shooters.

Here is the team:

O. J. Killam, St. John, New Brunswick.
W. H. Hamilton, Red Deer, Alberta.
H. J. Montgomery, Beamsville, Ont.
Ben McLaren, Calgary, Alberta.
S. G. Vance, Tillsonburg, Ont.
True Oliver, Vancouver, B.C.
George Beattie, Hamilton, Ont.
J. H. Black, Winnipeg (captain).

In case any one of the above cannot sail on the Port Victorian from Montreal on July 5, James McLaughlin, of Halifax, N.S., will join the team as a reserve.

The Canadians held tryouts for membership on the team, these tryouts being held in all sections of Canada on May 8, 15 and 22. The first four men on the above list were the highest scorers in the tryouts. Killiam broke 396 in 400, Hamilton 391; Montgomery, 389 and McLaren, 389. This shooting was done under the system which was employed in the last Olympic games, with the gun between the hip and the arm pit, which gives you an idea of the ability of the Canucks.

The other members of the team were selected because of their ability despite the place in which they finished. Sam Vance broke 379—yet he is considered one of the two best shots in Canada. Oliver broke 377; Beattie, 376 and Black, 371.

Killam, Hamilton, Montgomery, McLaren, Vance, and Black will represent Canada in the team competition and in the individual championship the first five will shoot for Canada. Oliver and Beattie will be the reserves in the team competition and Black will be added to their list in the individuals.

Captain Black says his team will do just as well as the Falcons did in the Olympic hockey matches, in which they won the championship.

While Canada is allowed representation in the Olympics and the Canucks will keep record of their points, the Canadian points count for England in the grand total.

This will be Canada's first Olympic team since 1908, when they finished second to England in the team competition and won first and second places in the individual championship. Walter Ewing, of the Montreal club, won the individual championship in 1908, with George Beattie second.

The Canadians think they have another champion in Killam. This shooter has been firing over the traps for less than two years, and in that time has made a wonderful record. In the various Olympic style shoots in Canada this year he has broken 444 out of 475 targets. The stiffer the competition the better Killam shoots.

Idaho's phosphate beds are practically inexhaustible.

Benny Leonard Lands K.O. on Charlie White

SPORTING NEWS

Big Speedway Race Is Won by Tommy Milton

WHITE SUCCUMBS TO K.O. FROM LEONARD

Fight for Lightweight Title Had Reached the Ninth Round Before the Champion Did the Trick

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., July 5.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, knocked out Charlie White in the ninth round here today.

White and Leonard were weighed privately at their respective camps by the officials of the Michigan Boxing Commission. Leonard's weight was announced at the ringside as 137 1-2, while White's weight was announced as 134. Leonard's weight was somewhat of a surprise as it was thought he was much heavier. The boxers were weighed at 11 o'clock this morning.

The Fight by Rounds

Round 1—They danced around the ring a minute before Leonard hooked two light lefts to White's head. White kept backing away while Leonard tried to feint him out for an opening. White landed the first solid blow, a left hook to Leonard's jaw. Leonard put a light left to White's mouth and the Chicagoan clinched. The round was exceedingly tame, neither boxer landing a half dozen punches.

Round 2—Leonard shot his right to White's head and the Chicagoan tried for a left hook. Leonard dashed around the slow-moving Chicagoan and landed two lefts to the stomach. White missed a left hook and fell into a clinch. White cracked the champion's ribs with a left hook. Leonard shot two lefts to White's face. Leonard landed with a left and White missed a left jolt to the chin. White put a left hook to the champion's stomach as the round ended. There were hisses from the crowd as the fighters went to their corners.

Round 3—Leonard met White in the centre of the ring and hooked a left to his foe's body. White fought back, landing right and left to the champion's head. He drove Leonard into a neutral corner and showered him with rights and lefts. Leonard was not damaged in the exchange and backing away to the centre of the ring put three lefts to the Chicagoan's head without a return. Leonard, however, swung a right to jaw. The champion put two light lefts to White's head and White missed right and left swings to the jaw. The end of the round found them clinched in mid-ring.

Knocked Through Ropes

Round 5—They missed lefts to the head. Leonard shot a left jab to White's nose and the Chicagoan hooked him with a right hander to the chin. White grazed Leonard's forehead with a left hook and drove him to the ropes, landing four right jolts to the champion's chin. Leonard protested to the referee that White was holding. White half pushed and knocked Leonard through the ropes for a count of four. When Leonard was pushed back to the ring the Chicagoan fought furiously and had the better of the exchange.

Round 6—They swung and fell into a clinch. Leonard jabbed with his left. Leonard danced away from White's right-hander and missed with a left to the stomach. Leonard put a light left to White's chin and swung right and left to the Chicagoan's chin. Leonard missed with a right-hander, and White cracked the champion's jaw with a right and left.

Round 8—White hooked a left to the stomach and had Leonard backing away. Leonard landed two light lefts and then crashed over a right to White's head. White slammed a right to the chin an dlanded with a left hook as the round ended.

Round 9—Leonard rushed in with a series of terrific rights to the jaw, and after the Chicagoan got up he swung two more rights to White's head. Twice more the champion's terrific right sent White to the floor and the challenger rose in a dazed condition and apparently unable to protect himself. Another right sent him down on his face for the count.

ELKS' SWIMMING CLUB WILL MEET TONIGHT

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Elks' Swimming Club this evening at 8 o'clock sharp at the residence of their chairman, Mr. A. Weight, of 954 Arcadia Street. All members of the committee are requested to be there, as very important business is to be discussed. Any members that have not yet purchased their swimming crests may get same from the Toggery Shop.

CADDY IS KILLED BY GOLFER'S DRIVE

UTICA, N.Y., July 5. — Joseph Casey, 13 years old, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon on the links of Yahnundasis Golf Club when he was struck by a golf ball driven from a point 200 yards away by Frank C. Shippy, Utica. The boy was caddying at the club.

ST. AIDAN'S SPORTS

Annual Field Day Was Held Last Week—Heming Wins Scholarship

The annual athletic sports of St. Aidan's School, Oak Bay, were held at the B.C. Electric Railway Company's Park on Tuesday afternoon, in perfect weather and before a large number of the relatives and friends of the boys. The officials for the occasion were: Starter, Mr. C. D. Broadbent; timekeeper, Mr. P. H. Hughes; judges, Messrs. G. W. Mitchell, H. F. Hewett, C. E. Wilson and W. H. Mearns. Each event was keenly contested and the boys showed remarkable development and spirit. The work done by Sayer, Mearns and Terry in the senior, intermediate and junior classes was especially good, but they were respectively closely pressed by Jones, Fleming and Mitchell.

Special mention must be made of the very excellent drill given by the St. Aidan's Wolf Cub Pack and of the exhibition of flag signalling done by them. In this latter event the pack was divided into three sections, when a message was handed to section one, flagged to section two, and relayed to section three. The message given was "Good luck to S.A.S.," but when exhibited by section three, turned out to ready "Good luck to S.A.M.," much to the amusement of all present.

At half-time the guests and boys were entertained to tea by the headmaster, Mr. F. Ashley Sparks, who was assisted by Mrs. Hewett and several ladies.

At the close of the programme the prizes were presented by Colonel the Rev. G. H. Andrews, who briefly addressed the assembled guests and in their name tendered congratulations to the headmaster on the work done by the boys in school, on the result of the training as shown in their politeness and esprit de corps, and on their true sportsmanship in their games.

At the conclusion of the prize-giving, the Humphreys Scholarship was presented. This is open to the whole school, being awarded annually to the boy gaining the highest percentage of marks throughout the school year. Heming was the winner, with 88 per cent, but special mention should be made of Sayer, with 84 per cent; Jones, with 83 per cent, and Hurley II., with 80 per cent.

The programme of events and list of winners follows:

100 yards, senior—1st, Sayer; 2nd, Wilson I.; 3rd, Jones.

100 yards, intermediate — 1st, Mearns; 2nd, Miller; 3rd, Crease.

NATIONAL LACROSSE UNION IS SUSPENDED FOR REST OF SEASON

MONTREAL, July 5.—After the Shamrock-Cornwall lacrosse match here Saturday, when Cornwall defeated Shamrocks 5 to 3, a meeting of the representatives of the different clubs in the National Lacrosse Union was held at which it was unanimously decided that owing to lack of public support the games be discontinued and that the National Lacrosse Union be suspended for the season.

As a result of the disruption, Shamrocks and Cornwall will make application for membership in the Amateur Lacrosse Association.

KINGSTON TENNIS CLUB

The match between the Kingston Street Lawn Tennis Club and the James Island Club has been postponed for one week.

The new court being laid down for the club will probably be open for play early next week.

Entries for the club tournament are now being received, the closing date for same being the 10th inst. The first round will be played on the 13th or 14th inst.

Mrs. Cass, the previous secretary of the club, made a presentation of a handsome ornament, to be won outright by the winner of the ladies' singles in the club tournament.

OARSMEN ARE VERY ACTIVE AT PRESENT

Great Preparations Are Being Made for the International Regatta at Shawnigan Lake —Portland Will Be Strong

Great activity prevails among the J. B. A. A. oarsmen at present, as they have little more than a week in which to put the final touches on their work of preparation for the international regatta at Shawnigan Lake on July 16 and 17.

The seniors went up to Shawnigan Lake on Sunday and put in an excellent day's training, working out over the course and testing themselves thoroughly.

A change has been made in the seating order of the juniors, Bendrodt going to 3, Frost taking 2, and the result is very satisfactory, as the boat is better balanced now and has more speed.

Special arrangements have been made for the housing and care of the shells during the regatta and they will be accommodated in the boathouse of the Shawnigan Lake Rowing Club, who will place every facility at the hands of the visiting oarsmen.

The men themselves will take up their quarters at Strathcona Lodge, which is expected to accommodate about fifty, and, as they will be close to the course, this should be very satisfactory.

The Vancouver Men

Vancouver has decided to place her two fours in the junior race with the hope of capturing that event. Then, of course, they would enter the senior race the next day.

The crews are:

A. Mariacher, stroke; Kayll, 3; Poupore, 2; Grimmett, bow.

Beeston, stroke; Sweeney, 3; Clark, 2; Hoszie, bow.

Benny Fellowes and Fletcher will row junior doubles, while A. Mariacher is entered for the junior singles.

Pfaender Rowing for Portland

Portland, which will require careful watching in every event, is said to have a fine senior four, and it will be stroked by Stevens, the old Cornell oarsman, and one of the most popular men among the rowing fraternity. Mills, a six-footer, will row 3, and the other two men in the boat are strapping lads, so it will be seen that the Rose City oarsmen should be strong contenders for premier honors.

Special interest attaches to the senior singles, as Portland is sending up Armandus Pfaender, her old champion, who will attempt to "come back," and, if he has anything like his oldtime speed, he will make things extremely warm for his opponents.

Kennedy in Fine Form

Keen interest centres in the senior singles, as it is known that W. N. Kennedy, the present champion, will represent the J.B.A.A., but up to the present no word has been given out with regard to his training, and his numerous friends have been perhaps a trifle uneasy as to his chances. Now the secret is out. Kennedy has been working at Cortes Island, and early in the season he took his shell there, and, as he has a beautiful four-mile stretch of water for training purposes, he sends down word that he has never been so "fit" in his life. Latterly he has been out twice a day, and he intends to come down to Victoria on Monday and go straight to Shawnigan Lake, where he will put the finishing touches on his training, and when the senior singles is called one of the finest races ever seen in the West is expected to take place between Kennedy and Pfaender. Kennedy's weight is 165 pounds.

In 1909 Kennedy won the junior and senior singles in the N.P.A.A.O. regatta at Vancouver, and in 1914 he captured the senior singles in the same regatta at Portland, and also won the senior doubles with the late Harold Sinclair, who was afterwards killed in France.

The J.B.A.A. also has great faith in Hay-Curtiss, who will row in the junior singles. He has been working at Langford Lake, and has performed the same "stunt" as Kennedy. He also sends word that he is in fine condition and, as he is known to be a very fine sculler, he is looked upon as a dangerous competitor in his event.

Veteran Oarsmen Pleased With Crews

Walter Jesse, the veteran bow man, who formerly rowed in one of the J.B.A.A. "Big Fours," went out in the speed launch Bluebird with Coach Dan O'Sullivan last night, and sized up the senior and junior fours. Upon his return to the boathouse he said that the boys seemed to be in pretty good shape, and that the seniors were not a pretty crew, but that they had plenty of speed. And he added, with a smile: "That is what is needed. It is the boat that is first past the judges that wins."

With regard to the juniors, he expressed himself as quite pleased with the form they displayed.

The 140-pound oarsmen also impressed him favorably. "They certainly have lots of "pep," he said, and I am glad to see that the younger oarsmen are getting plenty of encouragement, for if the boys are looked after, the club always will have good crews."

Canoe and Swimming Events

In connection with the regatta, it has not been lost sight of that a great many people are much interested in canoeing and swimming, and a fine programme of these events will be staged.

They will be as follows.
Single paddle canoe race,
50 yards swimming, boys under 16.
Crab canoe race,
50 yards swimming, senior.
Tandem canoe race,
50 yards swimming, ladies,
Tandem canoe race, mixed.
100 yards swimming, senior.
Four paddle canoe race.
Tilting event.
Hurry-skurry canoe race.
Relay race.

The J.B.A.A. will sent five canoes, all of the same length and weight, so that the competitors will have an equal chance.

Russell Ross, the Bay expert canoeist, is training hard, and J. A. Wickson, W. N. Kennedy, W. S. Day and R. Travis are also expected to enter.

Altogether, the J.B.A.A. will spare no pains to make the forthcoming regatta a grand success in every way. A special train will leave Victoria early on Saturday afternoon, July 17, and it will reach the lake in time for the first race. Return tickets at a most reasonable rate are obtainable, and spectators are assured of a most enjoyable two days' outing.

LOCAL LAWN BOWLERS PLAY ELIMINATION GAMES THIS WEEK

The provincial lawn bowling tournament, in which the British Columbia championships will be competed for, is to be held in Vancouver on Saturday, July 31, and will take place on the greens of the Vancouver and Terminal City Clubs.

In the singles championship Victoria will be represented by Thomas McCosh, last year's winner of the club singles. To choose representatives to compete in the pairs championship is a much more difficult problem, and the following pairs have been selected to play elimination games to decide which couple shall have the honor of representing the Victoria club: R. Mountain and H. Renwick, E. M. Wright and T. Renfrew, J. R. Munro and D. W. Bates, W. Wood and A. Fairfull, A. McKeachie and James Raeside.

These games will consist of seventeen heads, and are being played off in the evenings of the first half of this week.

YACHT RACING IS IN FULL SWING ON CLYDE

LONDON, July 1. — Great yacht racing is now in progress on the river Clyde. Fifty vessels were at the Royal Clyde regatta Saturday, including the King's Britannia. The principal event was won by Mrs. Workman's Nyria, after a grand contest with the Britannia, which finished second.

Roy Burton Drowned

HAMILTON, July 1.—Roy Burton, formerly of Armstrong, B.C., a well known athlete who served as a physical instructor with the Canadian Expeditionary Force during the war, was drowned at Dundas Sunday afternoon, while bathing in a pond at the rear of the residence of his uncle, M. F. Burton, with whom he was visiting.

CAPITALS TAKE TWO MORE IN TACOMA

Harry Morton Triumphs Over Cole in Twelfth Straight Victory — Lawson Wins Forenoon Contest

TACOMA, July 5.—Victoria made a clean-up of the holiday fixtures here today. After winning Sunday's game, with Tom Kelly pitching, the Capitals captured both games of a double-header today and climbed higher in the league leadership.

Lefty Lawson won the morning game, 5 to 3. Grover Land, the Capital's new catcher, performed behind the bat and his work was a big factor in the victory. Bill Leard starred with the bat, getting a hit every time he went to the plate. Fred Carman, who, by the way, has forged his way into the .300 class during the past few days, batted in most of Victoria's runs, being responsible for three tallies in the eighth inning.

With the stands packed with Tacoma rooters and the great Bert Cole opposing him, Harry Morton won a clean-cut victory in the afternoon contest, allowing but four hits, while Cole was touched up for twelve. It was Morton's twelfth straight win and Cole's second defeat.

Although the auto races drew record crowds, there was a big attendance at both ball games, it being estimated that over 4,000 fans were in the grounds for the double-header.

BIG ENTRY LIST FOR LOCAL POLICE SPORTS

Department's Field Day at Willows on the 14th Inst. Promises to Be One of Best Ever Held in City

Entries for the forthcoming annual sports to be held under the auspices of the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association on July 14 at the Willows, are coming in well and the event promises to be one of the best field days in the history of local sportdom. The programme affords every branch of sport opportunity to participate. The open events are numerous and give the talent scope for action. The prizes this year will be the best ever offered, the committee declares, and to those who make the grade valuable mementoes of the occasion will be given. A feature of the day's events will be the open tug-of-war for which a police team is training assiduously.

Tonight the police tug-of-war team will go over to Vancouver where it will compete at the annual sports to be held by the Vancouver Police Department tomorrow at Brockton Point. The team is composed of Sergeant Fry and Constables Ch. Foster, R. Foster, Raines, Stark, McLellan, Acraman and Drever and two spares, Constables Florence and Bishop.

Tickets for the sports at one dollar for a couple, are selling well and a large attendance at the Willows on the 14th is looked for.

On the evening of the 14th a dance will be held at police headquarters for which a limited number of tickets have been issued at $1 per couple. The dance will continue from 8 to midnight and will be up to the high standard set by previous police functions.

TOMMY MILTON WINS BIG RACE AT TACOMA

Averages 95 Miles an Hour Over 225-Mile Course — Mulford Is Second—There Were No Accidents

TACOMA, July 5.—Tommy Milton, reeling off 225 miles in two hours 33 minutes and 28 seconds, won the ninth annual speedway contest here this afternoon. He averaged 95 miles an hour, the fastest time yet made on the local track in a race of more than 100 miles. He won the $10,000 first prize.

Mulford was second and the other drivers finished in this order.

Hearne Klein, Scarles, Murphy, Gaston, Chevrolet and O'Donnell.

Chevrolet, winner of the Indianapolis race on Memorial Day, had motor trouble. Ralph de Palma was the victim of bad luck all day. His French car was unable to start the race and he started in the American car of Eddie Miller, but was forced to quit on account of engine trouble. Durant, Thomas and Boyer were also fried out.

A crowd of 40,000 persons saw the race, the sensational feature of which was the contest between Milton and Mulford. There was not an accident to mar the day.

TORONTO CYCLIST INCREASES LEAD FOR U. S. TITLE

NEW YORK, July 5.—By winning the two-mile United States' titular race from Frank Kramer yesterday, Arthur Spencer, the Toronto cyclist, increased his lead in the national championship competition. Ray Eaton was third, and W. Spencer, of Toronto, fourth.

Arthur Spencer now has 25 points, a lead of 13 points on his nearest rival, Kramer.

FRANK'S FEAT MAY WELL BE A RECORD

TORONTO, July 5. — Frank O'Rourke, shortstop of the Toronto club, probably created a new baseball record on Saturday in the game between the Toronto and Rochester clubs of the International League when for the second time this season he hit safely six times in six trips to the plate. In Saturday's game he had two home runs, a double and three singles or six hits for a total of 13 bases.

THREE RECORDS ARE BROKEN BY LADIES

Number of New Marks Set by Swimmers in the Olympic Swimming Trials Held at Montreal

MONTREAL, July 5.—The feature of the second day of the Olympic swimming trials held here under the auspices of the Quebec Branch of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association on Saturday afternoon, was the brilliant exhibition of George Vernot, of Montreal, who earned the right to represent Canada at the Olympic Games together with the title of Dominion champion. Vernot lowered the previous mark in the 33-yard event, established by R. N. Ritter, of the New York Athletic Club. This was 2:04 1-5 and Vernot brought it down to 2:39, a difference of 25 1-5 seconds. Another mark lowered was that by G. H. Fisk, of Montreal, in the 100-yard backstroke which was brought down from the 1:26 1-5 mark held by R. N. Ritter, of New York, to 1:23 2-5. Yet the third new record was established by Miss Kessler, of Winnipeg, in the 220-yard event who swam the distance in 3:33 1-5.

The following were the results in the events for women:

220-yard ladies championship—Miss Kessler, Winnipeg, first; Miss Grimshaw, Winnipeg, second; Miss M. Silcock, third. Time 3:33 1-5, new record.

300-yard ladies—Miss Grimshaw, Winnipeg, first; Miss Kessler, Winnipeg, second; Miss M. Silcock, third. Time, 5:07 1-5. New marks by women established at the meet: 100 yards, Miss Grimshaw, Winnipeg, 1:26 3-5. 220 yards, Miss Kessler, Winnipeg, 3:33 1-5. 300 yards, Miss Grimshaw, Winnipeg, 5:07 1-5.

GAZEKA WAS FIRST TO CROSS THE LINE

Actual Winner of Sunday's Big Yacht Race Not Yet Declared—Big Regatta Was Unqualified Success

The actual winner of the yacht race to Port Angeles and back, sailed on Sunday, cannot yet be stated, as it depends on measurements which have to be made to determine disputed ratings, and the officials stated yesterday that the winner would probably not be known until late today.

Fourteen yachts started, and the sight when the breeze freshened and they were running for home, after rounding the buoy at Port Angeles was the prettiest seen in neighboring waters for many a long day, and made a fitting ending to a most successful regatta. The yachts finished in the following order: Gazeka, of Seattle; Clarabell, of Seattle; Truant, of Victoria; Turenga, of Vancouver; Imp, of Seattle; Onomo, of Vancouver. Other starters were Minerva, Adolphi, Ailsa I., Elsa May, Veruna, Verada, Viking, and Owhilna.

Following is the official timing in the races at Cowichan Bay and Royal Roads by the Class R yachts, Sir Tom, of Seattle, and Turenga, of Vancouver, for the Lipton Cup:

First race—	Start.	Finish.
Sir Tom	10:00:00	12:23:08
Turenga	10:00:00	12:28:23
Second race—
Sir Tom	2:45:00	5:03:30
Turenga	2:45:00	5:07:50

Following is the official list of results in the dinghy races, the owners being named in order according to total of points gained in the series of races by their boats

Name of owner.	Club.	Pts.

The officials of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club are loud in their praises of the hospitality of Captain Griffiths, who put his fine yacht, the Sueja, at their disposal for the judges' boat on Saturday and Sunday.

COLLIERS CONTINUE IN WINNING STREAK

Defeat Knights 5-3—Straith and Parfitt in Good Form—Knights' Fielders Gave Parfitt Poor Support

The Clan Macfarlane still continues to run amok with any and all teams they stack up against in the Amateur League. They increased their lead in the percentage column last night by defeating the Knights of Columbus 5-3.

Also Straith, on the mound for the clansmen, was an enigma to the opposing batters, and fanned 12, allowing but one walk, and seven hits, including a long double to deep centre that struck the Rockside cockerel in the beak. This, the only extra-base swat of the tilt, was made by Brynjolfson, a new recruit for the Knights. Bryn tried to stretch his hit into a triple, but was thrown out at third.

Ray Parfitt, the slabster for McQuade's outfit, was in fine shape, considering that he had a touch of rheumatism in his wing for several days. He bressed seven, walked two and allowed but four hits, and had his teammates tightened up in the field Parfitt might have chalked up another victory, for the Knights registered three earned runs against the Macmen's one. Pete McQuade has a habit of switching men that does not work to the best advantage for his team. The Knights had seven errors counted against them last night, against the Collieries' two.

Macfarlane's bunch are about as clannish as a manager could wish for. Dave is the one manager who never worries about his lineup. They are always on hand, and play their own positions every game. That is the secret of Macfarlane's success. The other managers might do well to copy Dave's line of talk. He has his men so well trained that he could probably sell them the postoffice did he wish. He talked the league out of a new baseball last night, and that's some feat.

The Collieries started out to cross the pan in the first inning last night. Jim Cummins, safe on Lalonde's muff, went to second on Smiler Pettierew out, Parfitt to Ross Oatman, and made third on McQuade's bobble of H. Copas' grounder. Cummins scored on Jackson's clean single, H. Copas going to third. Harry started for home on the next pitched ball and was caught between bases. In the see-saw he made the pan safely, Jackson going to third. Haley also took a chance at stealing home and got by safely. This ended the scoring until the fourth, when Straith made first on Russ Oatman's error and came home on McQuade's error of Ross' grounder. The last run was counted in the eighth. Smiler Petticrew hit safely, went to second and third on two outs, and came home on a passed ball, the only earned run of the game.

The Knights collected two counters in the first, and it looked like a good game. Williams fanned. McQuade singled and went to second on a passed ball. Russ Oatman struck at the third ball and barely touched it. The umpire could not hear the horsehide hit the willow and called three strikes. Bob Ross let it get by for a passed ball and Oatman made first safely, McQuade going to second. The next ball was a passed ball also, both runners advancing. Then Lalonde hit for a single and brought the two men in. The last run of the game came in the last half of the ninth. Russ Oatman singled and came home on Brynjolfson's long hit to deep centre.

The next game will be played on Wednesday between the Elks and Knights. Parfitt will try again for a win and will be pitted against Doc. Balcom, who always is in shape for a hard battle.

League Standing

The League standing, including last night's game, is as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Collieries-Vets	6	2	.667

BLACK BROTHERS TIE FOR LEAD IN GOLF

Play In Opening Rounds of the Tournament at Vancouver Below Expectations—Martin Makes Hole in One

VANCOUVER, July 5.—With 162 players competing in the open, 360 drawn for the amateur, 24 professionals and 80 women, a total of 526, the Pacific Northwest Golf Association championships that opened here today have broken all previous records.

Thirty-six holes of the open and the qualifying round of the women's open championships were played today. When the checking had been completed today, John Black, professional, at the Claremont Club, Oakland, and his brother Dave, professional at Shaughnessy, were tied for the lead, both having totals of 148.

John Black had the best round of the day when he went the first 18 at Shaughnessy in 70, but at Burnaby in the afternoon he had a 78. Dave Black took a 77 on the first 18 and in the second round came in with 71.

T. Rongerud, of the Jefferson Park Club, Seattle, followed the Black brothers last night with 151 for his 36, his first 18 in 73 and the second in 78. Ernie Martin was next with 76 and 77 for a 153. George Martin, Santa Barbara, and N. Christian were tied for fifth place with 154 each; they having negotiated both rounds in 77. At Burnaby in the afternoon Martin made the 12th (short hole) in one.

E. Chandler Egan, twice winner of the American amateur championship was tied with five others, including Jack Neville, San Francisco, and R. C. Spiers, Seattle, with 155, Clair Griswold, Jefferson Park, and R. Wilhelm finished their 36's with 156.

The playing of Von Elm attracted a great deal of attention in the morning round, when he finished with 78, his second 18 was not posted last night.

On the whole the golf was not up to expectations for the opening day, but some really good scores are expected when the competitors do the remaining 36 tomorrow.

The following women qualified for their open championship today: Mrs. S. C. Sweeney, Jericho; Miss Tidmarsh, Seattle; Mrs. E. A. Mackenzie, Burnaby; Miss Archer, Oak Bay; Miss Anderson, Burnaby; Miss Phepoe, Shaughnessy; Mrs. Galletly, Burnaby; Miss Farrel, Seattle; Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Peters, Maud Kegley, Mrs. Curran, Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Tweedale, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Pratt tied for the 16th place qualifying and will play extra holes tomorrow morning to determine which shall be elected to get away with the first flight.

Baseball Practice

The Yarrows will hold a baseball practice at the Royal Athletic Park at 7 o'clock tomorrow night. All players are requested to turn out in full uniform.

REGISTRATION FEE INCREASES JULY 15

OTTAWA, July 5.—Notice has been given by the Postmoc Department that the increase to 10 cents in the registration fee for letters will come into effect on July 15.

This increase was provided for in the amendments to the postoffice act which was passed by Parliament recently.

A FABULOUS SALARY FOR MOVIE COMEDIAN

Harold Lloyd Said to Have Signed a Contract for $1,500,000 Per Annum With New Company

The Associated Exhibitors, Inc., has signed a contract with the celebrated motion picture comedian, Harold Lloyd, at a salary of one and a half million dollars per annum.

The Associated Exhibitors, Inc., is a newly-formed company of various independent motion picture theatre owners of the United States, and it appears that they are starting out to make records by establishing the highest salaried artist in the world. The Pathe Company, as distributors of the films purchased by the Associated Exhibitors, will continue to distribute these high-priced comedies, which will be in two reels and appear once every month.

The comedian has taken only six years to jump to the position where he commands such a fabulous salary. His recent comedies have been very popularly received, among them being remembered "Bumping Into Broadway," "Capt. Kidd's Kids," "Haunted Spooks," "Eastern Westerner," etc. He is original, and slap-stick and pie throwing comedy situations being obtained by their originality and spontaneity.

VARIETY THEATRE Representing a venture into the frozen northlands in which Ronald Byron, celebrated Canadian actor, lost has life, "Back to God's Country," a picturization of James Oliver Curwood's well-known magazines story, "Wapi, the Walrus," comes to the Variety Theatre today and tomorrow. Based on a theme that kindness to animals will be returned to the donor by those animals, the story depicts the life of Dolores Le'Beau, a maid of the wilderness, whose kind treatment to forest beasts has taught them to love her. The story then switches to the Arctic regions, where Wapi, the killer, a great Dane dog, whose brutal side has been brought to the surface through the cruelty of owners, meets Dolores, who saves it from a beating and wins the animal's loyalty. A race across the Arctic snows with a fugitive from justice in pursuit is about to be lost by Dolores and her helpless husband when Wapi, The Killer, summons all his strength and the hatred he has for those who mistreated him into a supreme effort, attacking the persecutor of his only friend in a fight that resulted in the death of four animals of great value.

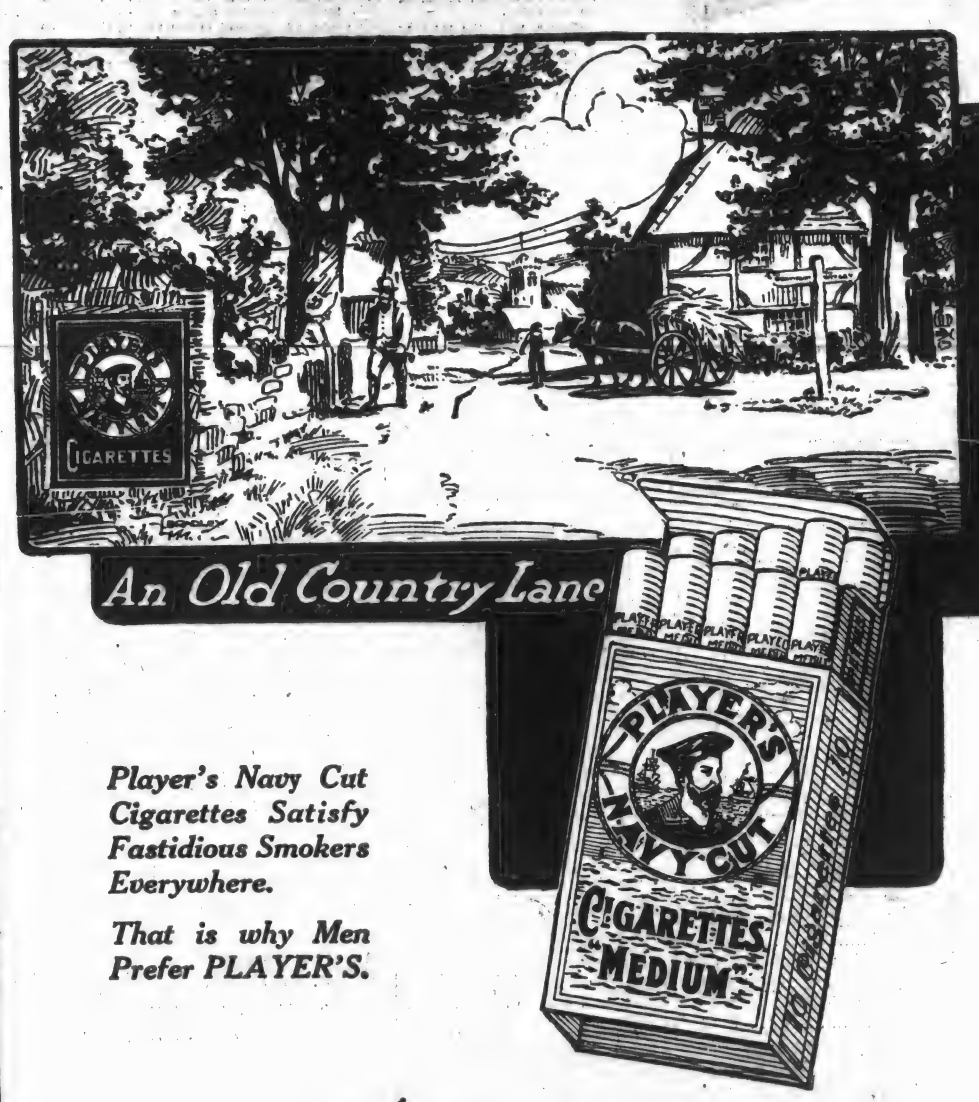

COLUMBIA THEATRE One by one the best works of the modern masters of fiction are finding their way to the screen. Joseph Conrad's great novel, "Victory," has been made into a motion picture by Maurice Tourneur and will be shown as a Paramount-Artcraft feature at the Columbia Theatre this week. In the picturization of "Victory" Mr. Tourneur was right in his element. He has lately given to the screen such thrilling and massive productions as "Sporting Life," "The White Heather" and "The Life Line," the latter founded upon the famous "Romany Rye." Like most of Conrad's novels, "Victory" is a story of the sea, laid in the South Sea Islands. The hero is the son of an expatriated Swedish baron, drifts to the South Pacific and after some thrilling encounters with a group of unscrupulous adventurers who seek the supposed fortune he possesses wins the love of the girl whom he rescued from her brutal master. It is a picture of the sea in her changing moods, of red-blooded men and women, and has the fascinating, exotic flavor of all the Conrad tales.

DOMINION THEATRE Wallace Reid proves that he is a speed demon of parts as well as an entertaining comedy star in his new picture, "Excuse My Dust," which opened a week's run at the Dominion Theatre last evening. Mr. Reid has the role of the young manager of the "Darco" auto agency. His business rivals, the "Fargot" people, are most anxious to secure a sketch of the new "Darco" motor, supposed to be a marvel for speed and power. Accepting a challenge for a road race, Wallie is fouled by his rivals, but manages to cripple them so that Theodore Roberts, in the role of "The Bear," president of the "Darco" company, flashes over the line a winner. Ann Little makes an exceedingly attractive leading woman. Tully Marshall and Guy Oliver are also in the supporting cast. Not the least important member of the company is the talented little child-actor who plays Toodles, Jr., in the films.

ROYAL VICTORIA Pants are tight, unpleasant things to wear, particularly if a boy has never had them on, so it was not easy to convince the native boy that he couldn't be religious and not wear pants. He pointed to his Divinity, a very fat, scarred face idol and said the idol didn't wear pants and why should he. But the missionary's son, his friend, had a different view, and after a scrap that ranged along the beach and into the water, the pants were drawn along the unwilling hips of the native. The scene is one of many comedy incidents in the lives of the two boys as shown in "The Idol Dancer," D. W. Griffith's latest First National production now showing at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

PANTAGES THEATRE In these days of machine-made motion picture plots and so-called adaptations of your favorite novels, it is refreshing to see a picture which unfolds a novel plot with a surprise hiding around every corner. "Respectable by Proxy" is such a picture. It began a two-day showing at the Pantages Theatre yesterday and surprised the audiences with the interest it unfolded. It is particularly interesting for the reason that the plot is not trite or over worn with use. It is fresh with tingling romance and is distinctive entertainment, with piquant attractiveness to give it verve. It is entertainment well produced and well acted. "Respectable by Proxy" will be exhibited at the Pantages for the last time today in a continuous showing, between the hours of 2 and 11 o'clock. Pantages vaudeville will begin tomorrow with the usual Wednesday matinee performance.

BOY SCOUT BENEFIT PROMISES BIG CROWD

Ladies' Committees and Scout Troops Busy Selling Tickets —Collieries and Yarrows to Field Regular Teams

All indications point to the S. R. O. sign being hung up at the Stadium on Thursday before Umpire Alle McGregor calls "Play ball at 6:30 p.m. in the Boy Scout benefit game between the Collieries-Vets and Yarrows. The affair, which is being held under the distinguished patronage of His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor and the auspices of the I.O.D.E. and King's Daughters promises to eclipse anything of the kind yet held this season in point of attendance.

George Beck, of the Toggery Shop, who is associated with Bill Spencer in managing the Yarrows Baseball Club, is determined that his nine shall win. George is especially interested owing to the fact that he is a former officer in the Boys' Brigade, a progenitor of the Boy Scout Movement.

Dave Macfarlane, of the Collieries-Vets claims to be not worrying about the final result, saying that he is content to rest with that statement.

The ladies' committees and the Scouts are busy selling tickets at twenty-five cents each and great rivalry exists between the various teams as to which will dispose of the greatest number.

The entire proceeds of the game will be turned over to the Boy Scouts, and it is earnestly hoped that parents of growing youths will be on hand with their offspring to help augment the funds of this worthy cause.

Cancellation of Orders

LONDON, July 5.—Publicity is being given in this country to resolutions of the British Trades' Association of Canada, representing hundreds of British traders in the Dominion, complaining of the unreasonable cancellation of orders from Canada to British cotton and worsted trades, and recommending concerted action against cancellation, except for sufficient reasons, and in no case unless application is made through agents in Canada.

SIR HERBERT SAMUEL REACHES JERUSALEM

JAFFA, July 5.—Sir Herbert Samuel, the first British High Commissioner for Palestine, arrived here on Thursday and was given a rousing reception. He was welcomed by the Medior and the heads of the various communities, who presented Sir Herbert with addresses of welcome. The salute of 21 guns was fired.

After the official reception, Sir Herbert proceeded by special train to Jerusalem, where he was received at headquarters by General Bolsh, who for some time past has been British administrator in Palestine.

B.C. TEACHERS HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION

Meeting of Federation at Vancouver Last Week Reviews Work of Year—Mr. Charlesworth's Energy Appreciated

The British Columbia Teachers' Federation met in convention Friday morning, July 2, 1920, in the Aberdeen School, Vancouver.

The business of the morning was restricted to the consideration of the salary schedule which the executive of the Federation has drawn up and which the boards of school trustees throughout the Province of British Columbia will be asked to consider and adopt as a basis for future increases in salary. The schedule as presented contains the minimum salary only, as it was considered that the fixing of the maximum salaries at the present time is extremely difficult owing to changing conditions, and also to the much more important fact that there is now in progress a world-wide movement for the raising of teachers' salaries. Campaigns are meeting with remarkable success in this regard. England and Scotland have made remarkable advances, while in many places in the States salaries have been doubled. The shortage of teachers, and especially of male teachers, has become a problem of national importance, and the nation's leaders are rallying to the support of educationists in providing a future remedy. Hence the Federation intends to conduct a campaign in conjunction with other places and put before the public some of the startling facts. The minimum salary for an experienced teacher is fixed at $1,200.

The convention was characterised by a splendid spirit and the entire proceedings moved with exceeding smoothness. Representatives were present from Vancouver, North Vancouver City, North Vancouver District, South Vancouver, Burnaby, Point Grey, New Westminster, Victoria and District, Saanich, Cowichan Valley, Ladysmith and District, Nanaimo and District, Comox and District, Mission, Chilliwack, Dewdney, the Fraser Valley, Langley, Salmon Arm, Okanagan Valley, Kootenay and Boundary District, Prince Rupert and Northern B.C.

Changes in Constitution

In the afternoon changes in the Constitution and By-Laws were made. These were, for the most part, made to expedite the work of the executive and in the interest of progress generally. Some of the more important were those providing for honorary and for associate membership, and one, which provided for Normal School instructors to be admitted as members. The time of the annual meeting was also changed from the Christmas to the Summer vacation. A change of great importance was that providing for the officers and executive of the Federation. The adopted clause reads: "The executive shall be elected on the basis of such geographical representation as shall be decided upon by the executive, with three additional members elected by the new executive, to secure adequate representation of sections. The object of this change was to secure that all parts of the Province should be represented on the executive, and also that the various grades of teachers should have at least one executive member. The districts were defined for the present year as follows: Vancouver, North Vancouver City and District, South Vancouver and Point Grey, New Westminster and Burnaby, Nanaimo and Northern Vancouver Island, Victoria and District, Fraser Valley, Okanagan Valley, Kootenay and Boundary, Prince Rupert and Northern B.C.

Secretary's Report

Mr. Harry Charlesworth, the general secretary, reported an excellent condition so far as membership was concerned, 1,600 members in good standing being registered. An active campaign is to be commenced to get all teachers in British Columbia into the Federation this year. In this report he spoke of the responsibility which should be felt by each individual partaking of the benefits of the Federation, and impressed the need for a greater sense of obligation. To this end he submitted a Card of Obligation which is now in use in the Manitoba Teachers' Federation, and suggested that each member of the B.C. Federation be asked to sign a similar card. The text of this card is as follows:

"I, (name of teacher) hereby declare that I will comply with the rules and regulations of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, and will support its policy;

"I will not discuss the business of the Federation with any non-member unless duly authorised to do so.

"I will observe due professional etiquette and always uphold the honor and efficiency of my profession.

"I will do all in my power to prepare my pupils for true citizenship, and I will take a lively and sympathetic interest in the affairs of the community."

This was heartily endorsed by the delegates, and cards will be mailed to each member of the profession in the Province of B.C. for signature.

Treasurer's Report

The treasurer, Mr. S. Northrop, submitted a report of the year's receipts and disbursements, showing a balance in hand of $3,714.95.

The election of the president was the next business, and resulted in the appointment of Mr. J. G. Lister, of Vancouver, to the chair for the ensuing year.

The delegates from the various districts elected their representatives on the executive committee as follows: Vancouver, Mr. G. A. Ferguson; North Vancouver City and District, Mr. J. B. Bennett; South Vancouver and Point Grey, Mr. C. L. Thornber; New Westminster and Burnaby District, Mr. W. H. Fenton; Nananmo and Northern Vancouver Island, Mr. E. S. Martin; Victoria and District, Mr. J. M. Campbell; Fraser Valley, Mr. P. H. Sheffield; Okanagan Valley, Mr. D. J. Welsh; Kootenay and Boundary District, Mr. B. P. Steeves; Prince Rupert and Northern B.C., Mr. J. C. Brady.

At the executive meeting which followed the convention, the executive appointed Miss H. B. Anderson and Miss M. McKillican to represent the lady teachers and the grade teachers, and Mr. S. Northrop to represent the manual training men.

On motion, the salary schedule, which was under consideration during the morning session, was adopted.

Resolutions of regret and sympathy for the sudden illness of Mr. P. H. Sheffield (who was taken ill just preceding the convention) were passed, and the sincere thanks of the Federation for his valuable assistance on the executive committee were expressed.

Satisfactory Organization

During the whole proceedings it was brought home to those present assembled that the success of the Federation during the past year has been largely due to the splendid organizing ability and sound judgment of the general secretary, Mr. Harry Charlesworth. The clearness and force with which all matters pertaining to the work of the Federation were presented to the convention, as well as to the various associations during the year, by Mr. Charlesworth, were duly recognised and the resolution of appreciation tendered to him by the convention was endorsed by all present with sounds of applause.

Votes of thanks were also tendered to Mr. J. R. Pollock, the retiring president, and the members of the executive.

The president, Mr. Lister, and Mr. Charlesworth, general secretary, were elected delegates to the convention at Calgary to be held on July 21. The conference will be the second Inter-Provincial Conference to be held. Last year Mr. Charlesworth took the initiative in calling such a conference, during the Winnipeg National Conference, and he was elected chairman at that gathering. The arrangements for this year's meeting are in his hands. Although it was originally planned for the four Western Provinces only, representatives of the Ontario Teachers' organisations have communicated with Mr. Charlesworth and have asked permission to have delegates present at the gathering. Such permission has been readily granted, and Ontario will be ably represented by Mr. Fraser, president of the Toronto Teachers' Council, and by Miss Bertha Adkins, president of the Ontario Women Teachers' Association, and educational editor of the Woman's Century, the official organ of the National Council of Women.

The convention was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

GIRL GUIDES RETURN FROM BURNABY RALLY

Generous Treatment of Visiting Companies at Hands of Fellow Workers of Mainland —Presentations and Prizes

Yesterday the Girl Guides who represented Victoria at the rally at Burnaby, returned on the day boat. The contingent, which was nearly sixty strong, left Victoria on Friday at 2:15 p.m. They were drawn from the First Camosin Company, and Strawberryvale, under Miss Tysoe; the second, Lady Douglas, under Miss Leighton; the third, James Bay, under Miss D. Fowle; the fourth, Oak Bay, under Miss New and Miss Shopland.

The Guides were met in Vancouver by Guides from Vancouver and Burnaby. Hospitality was most generously given to each and every one of the visitors, a party of eleven being whisked away to Burnaby Lake in a motorcar. The main body proceeded to the B. C. Electric station, and were taken out of town in a special car. Some of the girls were billeted in Vancouver, others at Royal Oak, Jubilee, etc. Nothing could exceed the kindness shown to them all by everyone. At Jubilee the officers were escorted to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, who had lent their house for the accommodation of officers, they themselves being away camping.

Grand Rally Held

On Saturday afternoon the Grand Rally was held in the grounds of the Municipal Hall, Edmunds. The B. C. Electric very kindly gave the Guides special rates on their lines during the day. One hundred and eighty Guides and Brownies were present, those being members of the first, Burnaby, under Miss Leigh; second, Vancouver, under Mrs. Munday; third, Vancouver; first, New Westminster, and Victoria companies.

An exhibition of work was on view in the public hall, and during the morning the judging of exhibits was carried out. The sewing and dressmaking exhibits were of a very high order. Special mention was made of a middy blouse made by a second Victoria Guide, and of several other Victoria exhibits, but the Silver Cup awarded by Mrs. Miller, commissioner, was won by the Burnaby Company. Their display of sewing, embroidery, etc., was excellent, and included a beautifully made evening dress, ornamented with beadwork, the work of a Guide, sixteen years of age. Burnaby also won the Brownie's Cup, the prize for Pets and also the Naturalist exhibit prize. The prizes for miscellaneous exhibits were both won by Victoria. Miss G. Tysoe won the Guides' prize, and Brownie Eileen Shaw, of Oak Bay, won the juniors' prize with some very clever drawings. A special prize for hat trimming was given to Guide S. Roberts of the second Vancouver Company.

Hoisting of Flag

At one o'clock the Rally opened with the hoisting of the flag, the staff being erected beforehand by Victoria Guides. A crowd of visitors and friends assembled on the grounds as onlookers, prominent amongst these being Mrs. Bordman and Miss MacDonald, Girl Guide Commissioners from London, England, who were on their way home from Australia. They were welcomed by Mrs. Miller, Miss Leigh, and the officers and Guides, to whom their presence was a very great pleasure. They received the salute during the march past, and afterwards the Brownies of Burnaby, New Westminster and Victoria formed the fairy ring and danced round them, finishing the ceremony with the new and highly effective grand howl. Each company furnished an item in the display which followed.

Results of Sport Contests

The sports were entered into and watched with the greatest enthusiasm. The results were as follows:

Patrol drill, second Vancouver; ambulance, first Burnaby; 75 yards dash, second Vancouver; signalling, Burnaby; broad jump, Guide Edith Green, fourth Victoria; high jump, P. L. M. Peden, second Victoria; ball throwing, Miss Gray, Burnaby; officers' relay race, Victoria officers' team; Guides' relay race, second Victoria; tug-of-war, second Vancouver; parcel tying race, Brownie F. Rippingale, fourth Victoria; 50 yard dash, Burnaby; relay race, Burnaby Brownies.

The contests were carried out in the real Guide spirit. There was a splendid atmosphere of fair play, which must have been felt by everyone present. The jumping contests were breathlessly exciting, the finish of each being very close. The doctor who judged the ambulance competition found it difficult to decide upon the winning patrol, and the second Victoria Company only lost the patrol drill contest by two marks, obtaining 97 per cent. Victoria pulled Burnaby over once in the tug-of-war, but finally lost. They had scarcely caught their breath after being beaten by the Burnaby team before they raised a hearty cheer for their triumphant foes. This was the spirit of the rally.

Bouquet and Presentations

After the sports a noble banquet was given by the local Chapters of the Daughters of the Empire, and then the prizes were presented by Reeve Sanderson. In addition to the prizes for the exhibition and competitions there were several special presentations.

The Burnaby Guides presented a thanks badge to Mrs. Miller, their commissioner. The Medal of Merit, which is awarded by headquarters for very special service, was presented to Miss D. Fowle, captain of the third Victoria, in recognition of her work as a nurse during the influenza epidemic, and also to Patrol Leader M. Patrick, of the second Victoria, who nursed her family with influenza for seven long weeks. First-class badges were presented to Guide N. Hunter of first Victoria, and to Patrol Leaders E. Patrick and M. Patrick of second Victoria, who also won their all round cords.

Address by Clergy

On Sunday afternoon a service was held in the public hall under the direction of the local clergy, when a splendid address was delivered to the Guides by Rev. H. J. Douglas.

During the rest of the time while the girls stayed in Vancouver and district they were entertained right royally by their respective hostesses, some of them going to Stanley Park, beaches and Capilano Canyon, motoring, bathing and enjoying themselves with their fellow Guides of the other companies.

The organization of the rally and all pertaining to it was under the direction of Miss Amy Leigh, captain of the Burnaby Guides, whose ability, consideration and kindness won the heart of every Guide officer and Guide who participated in the rally.

Unlimited Guarantee on Goodyear Solid Truck Tires

There is no time or mileage limit to the guarantee behind Goodyear Solid Truck Tires.

Every Goodyear Solid Truck Tire is guaranteed to be perfect in material and workmanship.

No strings—no conditions.

If your tire runs 25,000 miles and then shows defective material, it will be adjusted.

If it runs for two years, and then shows defect in manufacture, it will be adjusted.

This Goodyear guarantee policy is important in itself to truck owners.

But it is far more important as an example of the principles which guide the Goodyear institution.

Principles which have inevitably led to the building and selling of Goodyear Solid Truck Tires and Goodyear Pneumatic Cord Truck Tires on a basis of low cost-per-mile for tire and truck.

The Evidence

The mileage which Goodyear Solid Truck Tires render is high. Numberless testimonials prove it. Here, for instance, are some mileages which should interest any truck owner:

Victoria Fuel Co., Victoria, B.C.,	15,750 x
Canadian Transfer Co., Montreal,	15,000 x
P. Burns Co., Vancouver, B.C.,	21,000
Robin Hood Mills, Calgary, Alta.,	24,000
Graham & Reid, Edmonton, Alta.,	13,000 x
Weidman Bros., Winnipeg, Man.,	18,780 x
Sun Brick Co., Toronto, Ont., -	16,000 x
F. F. Dalley Corpor'n, Hamilton,	10,000 x
T. Dexter & Son, London, Ont.,	16,000 x
Frontenac Brewery, Montreal -	11,000 x
T. McAvity & Son, St. John -	16,000 x

x Tires still in use.

You or your truck dealer can get Goodyear S. V. Solid Truck Tires and service from any Goodyear Truck Tire Service Station.

Goodyear Pneumatic Cord Truck Tires

Built for rapid work over all kinds of roads. Cushion the load, prevent breakage, reduce truck depreciation, save gasoline. (Already in use on even the largest trucks at passenger car speed.) In use on cross continent runs; for farm and city delivery. Render mileage approximating closely that of Goodyear Solid Truck Tires.

The advice of a Goodyear Truck Tire man may save you hundreds of dollars in a year. Do not hesitate to ask for one to call on you. Phone, wire or write the nearest branch.

SENSATIONAL EFFORTS NOW TO PUSH SALES

New York Authority Quotes Instances of Attempted Unloading of Stocks by Manufacturers Direct

There never was a time when merchandising ability and business foresight were more needed than just at the present, says The New York Times of recent date. The market in many lines shows signs of being glutted with supplies, what with overproduction, reduced consumption and the return to domestic channels of a lot of things made up for export. Efforts to push sales in order to get rid of goods are of an extraordinary and sensational character. Examples are afforded by the selling of the Nemours shoes and of the surpluses of the clothing and garment manufacturers in this and other cities. In Boston the sale at retail of stocks by the Lynn shoe manufacturers is another typical instance of the kind. Still another big sale of clothing is announced to take place in the near future in a number of cities to help dispose of a lot of goods that have failed to move through regular channels for one reason or another. Added to this is the uncertainty of the effect which the drop in prices of raw materials, such as leather, wool and silk, is likely to have on garments, shoes, etc. If prices on finished products are to be based on the replacement cost of the materials out of which they are fashioned, they are likely to come down with a drop. Economies of manufacture, which were in great measure disregarded while the boom was on, will assume a new importance, and the weaker sisters in the manufacturing field will be apt to go by the board. The abuses in the labor end of production are already in a way of passing, now that unemployment is looming up. A fair day's work will have to be given for a fair day's pay.

Perplexing to Buyer

Until, however, this kind of readjustment is well advanced, the outlook for the buyer is full of perplexity. Sales direct from the manufacturer to the consumer have been made, and are being made, at bedrock prices, from which are eliminated the usual markups of the jobber and retailer. This is accustoming the public to price levels below those which it will be possible to maintain in the regular course of business. This is entirely apart from the fact that consumers will be apt to take advantage of these low levels to stock up against future needs, and so not make them as good customers for a period to come. It is difficult, under circumstances of this kind, to figure out how large the future demand is likely to be or how low prices will have to be made to insure consumer buying. There is no longer any real pretense that prices must go up because of higher percentages of this or that in production costs. It is now a question of how low the prices can be made in order to induce people to buy. Even at the best, it is not at all likely that the future purchasing will be on any such scale as prevailed during the spending orgy which recently ended. Lavish buying followed the enforced economies of the war period. This has been succeeded by a thrift which is the result of necessity and which is likely to be prolonged. A realization of this condition of affairs inclines buyers to hold off until they can see their way clearer than at present. And they are fortified by the knowledge that speculators are in no mood to rush in and force up the prices on them if they delay in making their purchases.

Weak, Nervous Children Quickly Gain Strength Under Following Plan

Nervousness, just like weakness, is a family predisposition. We inherit tendencies to disease just as we inherit physical resemblances. The strain of study, social duties, work at home — these all tend to make nervous troubles among children. No wonder that St. Vitus Dance, Epilepsy, and constant headaches have become alarmingly common. Pale, nervous, listless young people are met everywhere.

It is nothing short of criminal for parents to neglect signs of weakness in their children. By ignoring the slightest symptom of nervous or mental strain, you may condemn your child to life-long invalidism. If any member of your family complains of headaches, fear of going into dark places; give them that wonderful tonic, "Ferrozone." Strength of body and mind, hardy nerves, ability to study with comfort, all the attributes of health quickly follow the use of Ferrozone. It establishes strength, poise, endurance, vim—does this by filling the whole system with nourishment and tissue-forming materials.

It's because we know the enormous good that Ferrozone will do, because we are sure every child and even grown folks, will be permanently benefited, that we urge you to give it a trial. All dealers sell Ferrozone in 50c. boxes, six for $2.50, or direct by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

DEAN OF COLUMBIA TALKS ON SPIRITISM

Sermon Delivered at Christ Church Cathedral Recently Emphasized the Dangers of Planchette Communications

"This is veritably a day of spooks. Mistiness masquerades as mysticism. Ouija boards are more plentiful and popular than family Bibles. Science is now popularised, vulgarised and commercialized. Radium and the Rontgen rays are restricted still to the experts, but Dick, Tom, and Harry are free to dabble in psychical affairs. A young man in England who professes to have left his body and visited Tibet has 'returned from the dead' and is surrounded by a coterie of female worshippers. In Kensington (London) alone there are over a hundred mediums, who wring half-crowns from guileless soldiers who come to seek information concerning their dead comrades. There we touch the bitter pathos of the thing: Countless broken hearts are crying, 'Give me back my dead.'"

The foregoing is from a sermon which the Very Rev. the Dean of Columbia preached at Christ Church Cathedral on April 25, following the visit here of Sir Oliver Lodge, whom the Dean characterised as "a Christian gentleman, and a scientist of the first rank, who made on all who heard him a great impression of disinterestedness and sincerity." The further tribute was paid that Sir Oliver "discussed a highly controversial subject in a non-controversial spirit, and set us all an example of both tolerance for others' beliefs and loyal adherence to our own convictions."

"The "Buts"

From this point on Dean Quainton discussed the "Buts."

"But Sir Oliver Lodge would be one of the first to concede that he is not infallible and that we have a right to our opinions. Frankly, I am much more inclined to give weight to his guidance in his own special sphere of physical science than in that of psychical phenomena. It seems to me that in the latter department of knowledge, psychologists, neurologists and alienists have the best right to attention. And, as far as I know, there is no living psychologist equal in eminence in the psychological world to Sir Oliver's eminence in the world of material science, who is a confessed and convinced Spiritist. And he has lost a noble son in the Great War. I do not say that his interest in Spiritism dated from that tragic event, but it has been increased by it, and I can picture his candid mind uttering a caution to itself against the dangerous faculty of believing what one wants to believe. Sir A. Conan Doyle I do not take seriously in this business. The clever creator of Sherlock Holmes has spent a large part of his life imagining things. But there are the late Sir William Crookes (sometime President of the Royal Society), and the late Alfred R. Wallace. Sir William Barrett, too, was convinced at least of the reality of the phenomena in question. And a movement that has already attracted to itself such distinguished names as these is not to be sneered out of court. On the other hand, while numbers are not to be the final arbiter of truth, it must be remembered that for one living scientist of Sir Oliver's eminence who accepts Spiritism there are ten who do not.

Modern Interest in Spiritism

"I am sorry to have kept you waiting, but I had an engagement with Jack," said an unpunctual gentleman to a friend. ("Jack" was a son who fell in the war.) That is typical of much that is taking place. Some are attracted by love of novelty—a blend of Athenian inquisitiveness and pathetic credulity; some think it "correct" to be "psychic," others have an inordinate love of the mysterious, while a comparative few enjoy freedom from the trammels of what they are pleased to call "conventional religion." And there is a widespread revival of interest in the occult, associated with such fatalistic vagaries as astrology and fortune-telling, etc.

Spiritism is no new thing. Automatic writing was known ages ago. The planchette was used in China in bygone centuries. The ancient Egyptians knew practically as much about Spiritism as we do today. And in Rome, just before the first century of the Christian era, certain people were placed under police supervision for attempting to summon spirits from the vasty deep. . . Whatever may be the explanation of the facts, the Church has never formally denied their reality. And she has possessed stories of the saints lifted from the ground in ecstasy, of lights having been seen, of voices heard, of physical objects moved by super-normal means. And God appears in Holy Scripture to have allowed discarnate intelligences to appear to human beings and communicate with them. The point is—the old phenomena are now dressed up in grandiloquent scientific terminology. Those who attach any weight to the teaching of the Bible and search its pages for an encouragement of attempted communication with the departed will find there but cold comfort. . . I have no hesitation in saying that the attempt to set up communication with the departed is alien to the whole ethos of the New Testament. And Christ's rebuke to Thomas, who demanded material demonstration of His risen life, is full of significance—"Blessed are they who have not seen, and yet have believed."

More Than Spiritism

"What does Spiritism offer?" asked the Dean. "It claims to bring us two gifts: (1) The establishment of the fact of survival after death; (2) The establishment of the fact of communication with the departed. . . Is survival all that is offered? Well, Christianity offers that and more. It dares to utter the word immortality. We Christians have as much proof as is good for us. Take away the element of adventure, and there will be no 'fun' in being a Christian. Eliminate faith and substitute sight, and the moral dynamic of our religion would gradually disappear."

Christianity had not, said the speaker, denied the possibility of communication, but when such communications had taken place they had been unsought, unexpected and spontaneous. God, so to speak, had made the first move. He had taken the initiative. Therefore Christians shrank from going out of their way to set up communication with the departed.

"Our Spiritist friends may urge that the departed are eager to communicate with us, and only wait for us to set up the necessary media of contact. That is a great assumption, but not an ascertained fact, and if it be true, it is extraordinary that the greatest saints of history have never spoken from 'within the veil.'

About Mediums

"Now let us consider the personnel of this Borderland. At a seance, I believe, four personal agencies are in operation: (1) The sitter, looking for a message; (2) the 'control,' an unseen intelligence who speaks through the medium; (3) the medium whose voice speaks the message; (4) the disembodied spirit, whose message passes to the control and then through the medium to the expectant sitter. It follows therefore that if a message 'comes through,' it must pass through the channel of the 'control' and the medium. Two agencies convey it, and I therefore suggest that it is at least disputable that when the alleged 'message' reaches the sitter it has not been colored and even distorted by passage through these two personal links in the four-fold chain. And what of the character of the 'controls'? In 'Raymond' the four 'controls' are: (1) A pseudo-French doctor whose standard of accuracy is more than a trifle elastic; (2) a Hindoo Yogi; (3) a North American Indian; (4) an illiterate child. This kind of intermediary does not commend itself to one's moral sense. It seems inherently improbable that if God really wishes to communicate with us through departed spirits, He should employ such intelligences as these."

Just as the old Roman augurs laughed in their sleeves at the gullibility of their victims, so must these wretched frauds almost despise their clients. And educated people are as liable to deception as others! Keep away from mediums if you be wise—nine out of ten are frauds. This is an age of gullibility. There are some who stumble at the Apostles' Creed, but can accept the chains and jerrene chains, and root-races, and sub-root-races of wearisome theosophical speculation. St. Paul is hard to believe, but the weird mahatma from Tibet is infallibly inspired. The implications of the resurrection of Christ are ignored, but the mutterings of a medium are greedily swallowed. Doubtless there are honest mediums, but Sir William Barrett does not counsel unqualified acceptance even of their dicta. He says the natural tendency of the medium is not to disappoint the sitter, and the temptation arises to supplement genuine by spurious phenomena. And in the "peacock" incident in "Raymond," Sir Oliver Lodge, though he regards it as good evidence, admits the possibility of telepathy. Many of the messages that "come through" may be unconsciously stored deep in the memories of the sitters or medium. Intense concentration on the reception of a message marks all present at a seance, a condition favorable to obscure telepathic influence. And the medium therefore may "pick your brain" without knowing it, or unconsciously reproduce his own forgotten ideas. Nothing we have done or seen or said is forgotten entirely. It is written somewhere in imperishable characters on the buried tablets of the hidden memory. And it is quite arguable that the medium is, so to speak, taking a photograph, perhaps unconsciously, of things long forgotten but still deep down in the minds of the sitters, or of others. This may explain the fact that the "messages" are not outside the range of human imagination and memory. Nothing appears to come out of the Spiritistic bag that could not conceivably have been put into it by a human mind, consciously or unconsciously.

The Daily Dispatch, of England, has recently been giving considerable publicity to the "messages" received by the Rev. C. Vale Owen, Vicar of Orford, England. I am inclined to think that many quasi-educated folk will accept these, but they will not pause, before giving them a spiritistic interpretation, to reflect that, when a number of theories are advanced in explanation of a mass of data, one only should not be allowed to hold the field until, by a process of logical exhaustion, the others have been disproved. And the following theory has not yet been disproved: That these "messages" are the outcome of Mr. Vale Owen's subconsciousness, in which no doubt is stored what he has read and heard in the past, colored by his own mental tendencies. It is noticeable that the messages are couched in modern "journalese." Has Mrs. Vale Owen been attending a school of budding journalists behind the Veil? It is not clear that she possessed this special form of literary activity before. Be that as it may, it is better than the blessing alleged to have been given at a seance in bad Latin by Cardinal Newman (he is reported to have said "benedisear" instead of "benedicat") better than the inferior performance upon the piano given by Liszt, better than the muddle Julius Caesar made of his own famous utterance, "Veni, vedi, vici."

Low-Grade Spirits

Another theory is that the "messages" are the outcome of a class of inferior spirits who haunt the Borderland. Sir William Barrett believed that the unseen world is tenanted by spirits whose influence is sometimes evil. And the New Testament lends color to this. These low grade imps may have the power of invading our personalities and thereby imperilling our independence. It is possible that they delight in impersonating others and in lying and tricking. I therefore ask: "Is it prudent to throw the being open to the influx of occult forces, that may be evil and destructive, on the bare, unproven assumption that they are good?" Hear Sir Oliver Lodge speak to the under-graduates of his own University: "The antagonism to spiritualism had its ecclesiastical and its scientific sides, but the opposition was as it should be, for if a thing were not sound and true it should be killed. There would be no lack of opportunity of first-hand investigation, but he did not recommend that many people should take up the study; only a few here and there. The bulk of the people had better attend to their own work and leave the subject alone, merely taking a reasonable and open-minded view of the conclusions of those who really did the work. . . If I am asked whether I recommend all bereaved persons to devote time and attention to getting into communication with the departed, I reply, 'most certainly I do not.'"

Danger of Becoming Neurotic

Testimony is accumulating that mediums tend to become unbalanced, neurotic, and at last insane. Read Hugh Benson's vivid novel, "The Necromancers." But the opinions of scientists are better than those of an imaginative writer. Hear Dr. Viollet (physician to the lunatic asylums of Paris): "Mediums are the victims of hallucinations that tend to a state of delirium." Hear Dr. Haydn Brown (a London neurologist): "Many of my patients received their first mental shock at spiritualistic seances. They are risky things for the human mind. The disorder is progressive. Dr. A. T. Schofield, a Harley Street physician, says: "You cannot touch a planchette or turn a table without beginning what may lead to untold misery."

Congenial to the question I have discussed is consideration of the changes that have of late years passed over our attitude of the future life. Scholars of the first rank no longer speak of it as if its sequence of events could be arranged as in an almanac. No longer do we try to delineate the unseen world as on an ordnance survey map, with its exact proportions, its property divisions and elevations. The mantle of a confident literalism has rather fallen upon the Spiritist. "Raymond," for example, said, when the table got rampageous, "there is a certain amount of skylarking on this side, and I can't prevent it." A spirit of reverent hesitancy marks the modern theologian. It is more difficult than of old to found hard and fast eschatological doctrines on isolated texts. Today scholars look rather to the general tenor of Holy Scripture and the inherent moral and intellectual probability of suggested theories. One thing is clear—a materialistic heaven and hell are gone. Apart from other difficulties, modern scientific views of the universe have rendered such views untenable. If heaven be a literal auditorium, and hell a literal pit of flames, where are you going to put them? True: being creatures of time and place, we must speak in terms of time and place, but the modern man sometimes "thinks himself out" of such categories, and regards heaven and hell as states of being rather than localized spaces.

Conclusions

There is nothing in reason or revelation to make it imperative to believe that death involves discontinuity. We just drop our baggage at a "divisional point" and resume our journey. All we know of life means continuity in essentials. And yet there are two things we may expect to know after abandoning our physical impedimenta: (1) We shall know God better than we have ever known Him before. Think with awe of what it will be to have a fresh Vision of the Source of Beauty, Power and Love. (2) We shall see ourselves as we have never seen ourselves before. Not total transformation therefore at death do we expect, but transplantation.

Three main ideas in regard to the future life seem to be consonant with reason, the teaching of the Church, and Holy Scripture:—

(1) Waiting: The departed wait for us and for the restitution of all things. It is not unreasonable, therefore, to think that their joy is incomplete.

(2) Rest: "They rest from their labors," of earth, and yet they "rest not day nor night." They therefore must rest in their labors, and that labor may include ministry to souls weaker than themselves and yet struggling up to better things.

(3) Progress—in knowledge, peace, service and holiness. Progress is an inalienable law of all life.

This sermon has been published in brochure form in response to numerous requests.

ANNO DOMINI—A CASE FOR RESEARCH

By a Correspondent in The London Times

Within the next few years, we have been told, the span of human life will be materially increased. For those whom it carries conviction the announcement brings happy anticipation. For with the world full as never before of "a number of things" who would not welcome a zenith extending into one's 90th birthday, followed by a mild senescence running into the hundred and twenties? To the average man the radical drawback of life is its brevity. Ever since the heyday of the woolly elephant the medicine men have periodically discovered new methods of prolonging life; and, whether founded in bald superstition, in necromancy, astrology, the white magic of the herbalist or its lineal descendant, the dog-Latin of the British Pharmacopoea, their nostrums have received the punctual if not protracted adherence of the world's optimists. These panaceas of the past, whether they have involved the sacrificing of goats or the consumption of one of the pills three times a day after meals, have enjoyed one common attribute—they utterly failed to postpone senescence and its sequel. How then can we hope when generations of witch doctors, star gazers, magicians, and Aesculapians have steadily failed to fulfil their contracts?

Perhaps to bio-chemistry all things are possible with patience. So when some savant promises to increase for us the glands of apes and goats or by promoting the flow of a mysterious substance called Secretin we say: "May not this be the very thing that the world has been waiting for all these years?" Has not the biologist travelled further since Darwin's and since Weismann's day, than in the centuries that went before? True, the doctor still potters along in the rear saying, "Let me look at the tongue," and prescribing burgundy and a gravel soil, but even he must now divide some of his bedside manner guineas with the pathologist; and the more progressive surgery must look further than the removal of great intestines.

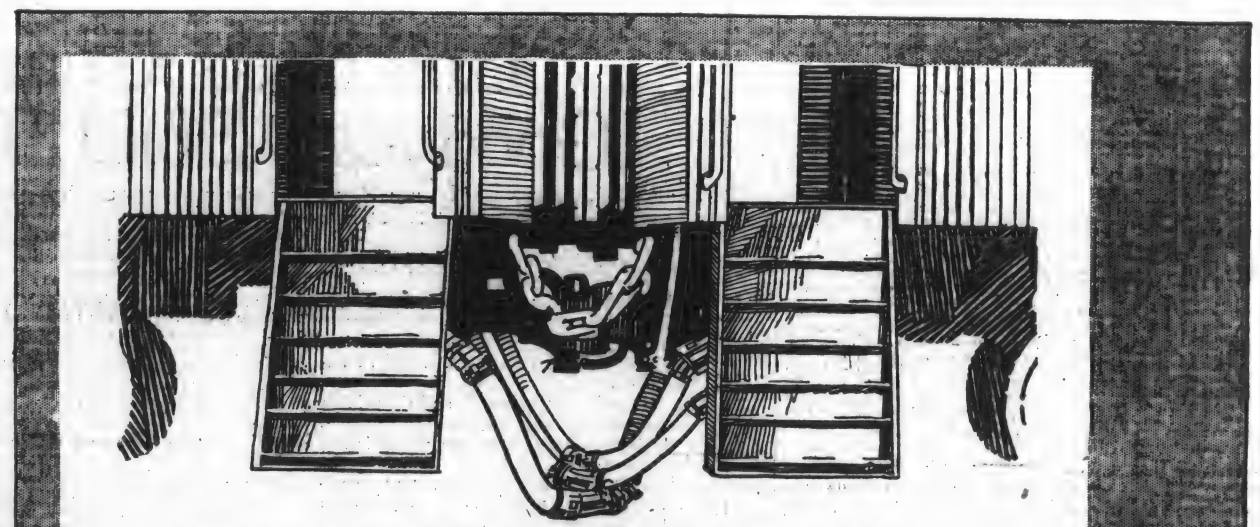

Is it not just possible that the reason why nobody has discovered a means of prolonging normal life (as opposed to warding off premature death) is that the subject has never been seriously or assiduously pursued? Is it not pre-eminently one of those cases where what has been everybody's business has been nobody's business? The doctor has nothing to gain by an access of longevity on the part of his patients. The State is far too occupied with securing the normal span of life to the citizen to be able to devote time or money to the purpose of lengthening it. The proper prosecutors of the search are the life insurance companies. Why, instead of eking out a modest dividend between the upper millstone of competition and the lower millstone of the mortality tables, have they not embarked on the process of making the uncertain certain and turning the business into a bonanza by setting experienced and highly-paid staffs to work upon the problem of longevity? For the life insurance company is in the happy position, that though it has betted with the insured that he will live (and pay his premiums) for a certain length of time—a legitimate matter of chance—yet should the company succeed in partially eliminating the uncertainty and making the continued payment of premiums to itself a matter if not of fact at least of a higher degree of probability no one would be more delighted than the loser of the bet. Who can doubt that if the life insurance companies went further and besides paying their pathologists and surgeons and bio-chemists a fixed wage distributed among them all the premiums paid by insured persons above the age of 80 years that some elixir of life would soon be forthcoming?

But would it avail us anything? What we want is not more life but more youth; more life at its nth power; not more years but fuller years; not to lengthen each phase of life, youth, manhood, old age, but to die 70 years young.

About half the cultivated land of Cuba consists of sugar plantations.

Appendicitis is more frequent among males than among females.

Industry Needed Better Hose —and Goodyear Built It

GOODYEAR Industrial Hose is built to meet modern industrial needs. Built as though hose had never been built before.

Breaking away from accepted but antiquated methods of hose building created Goodyear Industrial Hose—a hose that gives longer, more satisfactory service under present-day industrial conditions, and costs less in the end.

Water, Air Drill, Pneumatic Tool, Steam, Fire Hose—Goodyear studied and created a particular hose to meet the most exacting standards of each of these.

In the case of Steam Hose, Goodyear has done away with the inconveniences due to wire-winding—a choked hose due to bent wire, bulges and blisters under pressure; a cracked tube and weakened fabric; the inconvenience of cutting into shorter lengths, the cutting of the hose by the wire.

Goodyear has made wire-winding on steam hose unnecessary, by developing a hose fabric strong enough to resist high pressure without the addition of wire. Compounded an inner tube capable of withstanding the effects of high-pressure steam. Fitted the hose with a tough, durable cover. Created a steam hose that will meet the severe conditions under which it is used—at a very low final cost.

Let a man trained by Goodyear in hose problems call and explain them to you. No obligation. Phone, wire or write the nearest branch.

MAILS GOING VIA SEATTLE JUST NOW

Until Government and C.P.O.S. Agree Oriental Mail Will Travel by Other Lines—Matter of Subsidy Rates

VANCOUVER, July 5.—Asiatic mails due to leave on the C.P.O.S. Monteagle on July 10 will go instead from Seattle on the Blue Funnel liner Protesilaus on the 11th and on the Africa Maru on the 13th, according to an announcement made this morning by J. O. McLeod, superintendent of railway mail service.

Mr. McLeod stated that although no official explanation has come from Ottawa regarding the Empress of Asia mail trouble, it is the general opinion that it is a question of mail rates between the C. P. R. and the Dominion postal authorities, and until this is settled all Oriental mails will go by vessels sailing from Seattle and other American ports.

Ottawa's Explanation

OTTAWA, July 5.—The postoffice department here say they are not aware that any mails have been taken off the Empress of Asia at Vancouver, as instructions were given that no mails should be sent by that or any other C. P. R. liner until the dispute now pending between the company and the Government regarding rates is settled.

The trade and commerce department has notified the C. P. R. that they will not be subsidized. The amount in the estimates in 1919-20, for this service by the C. P. R. boats was $375,000, and in the estimates for the present year this was reduced to $267,666, and the company refused to carry the mails.

The postal department adds that under an international postal agreement when mails are sent by a Canadian boat, all foreign mails must also be accepted and be sent by that boat, but as the Canadian mails are very small in comparison with the mails of other countries, it has been a losing proposition for Canada, as the C. P. R. refused to carry the mails for less than $1 per cubic foot, which would mean a charge to Canada of $400,000 a year.

Certain Canadian mails have always been sent by the Japanese liners, and under an agreement based on international statistics for the transit of mails, which is revised every six years, our mails are still carried by the Japanese liners on the same basis of the 1918 arrangement, which amounts to about $100,000 a year as compared with $400,000 which the C. P. R. demands.

It is now proposed to send the mails via Seattle on Japanese steamers.

PORT PARAGRAPHS

The Canadian Government steamer Canadian Importer passed up the Straits to Vancouver yesterday afternoon with a full cargo in her holds from Australia. She will come to Esquimalt after unloading to drydock for cleaning and painting.

The tanker Atlas passed up at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, bound for Prince Rupert with oil.

The Bolton Castle passed out yesterday afternoon after bunkering at Comox. She is on her way from the Orient to New York.

C. P. R. car barge No. 7 was alongside the Outer Docks yesterday, loading Oriental freight for transport to Vancouver and thence overland. She had eight cars on her tracks. It is very seldom the C. P. R. resort to this method of carrying freight from this port to the Mainland from the docks. The regular ferry steamers and small freighters do the work as a rule.

The Princess Ena, C. P. R. freighter, has reached Skagway with freight from Vancouver, according to advices received by the local offices. She has a shipment of ties for the White Pass & Yukon Railroad.

The Harbor Marine Veterans' Association is holding a mass meeting at noon today for the purpose of making nominations of officers. These will be voted upon at the regular annual meeting this evening in the hall on Courtney Street, opposite the Alexdra House.

After undergoing repairs to her hull which was damaged in a collision with the Prince John, the Grand Trunk freighter Prince Albert left the Yarrow plant on Saturday evening, loaded five thousand cases of tins at the Empire Cannery, and then proceeded to Vancouver and then north, en route for Northern British Columbia points. She has been here for a couple of weeks, while plates were being removed and replaced at the bow which cut deep into the side of the John during a snowstorm off Skidegate several months ago.

The steamer Quadra is now at Yarrow's plant, Esquimalt, for her annual overhaul. She went on the marine railway yesterday morning. The Quadra carried ore between Britannia Beach and Tacoma and is commanded by Capt. Cutler, a well-known veteran of this port.

Some two miles of submarine cable were wound out of the hold of the Harrison lines Statesman onto a winch aboard a scow at the Outer Docks before the ship left last night for Vancouver. The cable was brought here from the United Kingdom and will be taken to Bamfield cable station. The work of taking the cable out of the hold began on Saturday afternoon and was concluded on Sunday morning.

The Time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The Height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the Drydock at any tide, add 19.0 feet to the height of High Water as above given.

ENGINES ARRIVE AT HARBOR MARINE YARD

Three Cars of Necessary Parts Received Here From Toronto Six Months Late—Last Two Expected Today

Three cars containing parts of the engines for the Canadian Winner, first of the steel freighters launched from the Harbor Marine Yard here, rolled into that plant yesterday, six months behind schedule. It takes five cars to hold the whole of the mechanism, and the remaining two are expected today. The heaviest piece of steel in the shipment is the crankshaft, which weighs in the neighborhood of twenty tons.

The engines were to be delivered from the John Inglish works, Toronto, six months ago, but after promise after promise had been made by the manufacturers, and after a big number of telegrams had been sent from the local shipyards, asking and urging, the first set is nearly all on the ground. A big floating derrick will be procured and will carry the engines in pieces down to the Victoria Machinery Depot, where they will be dropped into the Canadian Winner, which is lying at the dock there for completion. Owing to the fact that the engines had to come through tunnels en route they had to be shipped in sections and not set up.

FINEST YACHT OF PACIFIC IS HERE

Invader, Owned by President of General Petroleum Company, Taking Party on Cruise in B.C. Waters

The finest yacht in the Pacific Ocean today lies alongside the Outer Docks, and two of the Empress Hotel's fine suites are in the name of her owner, Capt. James Barneson, president of the General Petroleum Company, and head of a number of other businesses in California.

One hundred and thirty-eight feet over all, and with masts that measure 135 feet from truck to deck, the yacht Invader is drawing the mariners of this port down to the docks to admire and exchange comment upon the beautiful hull. The craft reached Victoria yesterday from San Pedro, having been towed up by the steam schooner Siskyou. Her owner and his party came north by train to join the boat. Capt. Barneson is accompanied by Mrs. Barneson, Mr. and Mrs. James Laidlaw, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Watriss and son, also of New York.

The Invader will carry her party about the yachtsman's paradise that lies about the British Columbia coast. Capt. Barneson stated last night that he will not go above Seymour Narrows, and will call at Campbell River, Bute Inlet and other places. He expects to be in British Columbia waters for the next couple of weeks and will go south on the yacht to San Pedro again. The boat will get away from here just as soon as the crew is complete, some of the men having been discharged at this port.

A Noted Craft

The Invader is a noted craft. She was built by Lawley on the Atlantic Coast and changed hands a number of times before coming into the hands of Capt. Barneson in January, 1919. She was at that time laid up in New York. Her new owner had her refitted and decided to sail her around to California. He, himself, joined her at Savannah. Calls were made at various points on the way south to the Canal. Passing through the Big Ditch the yacht sailed for Hilo, Hawaiian Islands, and went from there to Honolulu. After four months of sailing Capt. Barneson reached San Francisco, where the Invader was hailed with delight as the finest craft of her kind seen in this ocean. Her genial owner admits that San Francisco was right.

The yacht has the following measurements. Length over all, 138 feet; beam, 26 feet; draught, 15 feet; 154 tons yacht measurement. She is equipped with a Murray & Tregurtha engine developing 125-horsepower. Her interior is fitted out luxuriously. The main boom of the craft measures 85 feet, while the sticks are 135 feet from truck to deck.

A Satisfactory Rig

Capt. Barneson smiled when he heard that some of the local mariners thought she should have three masts to make the canvas more manageable. "They would spoil her," he remarked, and added that with her present rig she could make 14 knots in a breeze. "No trouble handling her," he said, in reply to a query.

A crew of 20 was aboard from New York to San Francisco, but 17 is the number used since that time.

The yacht's owner went to sea from the age of 9 years and served both in steam and sail. He loves the latter for pleasure. Speaking of the Invader he admitted that the auxiliary power slowed her a bit, but made up in usefulness. He pointed out that it was necessary to have other power than sail in waters such as those of British Columbia. He is familiar with this part of the coast. Capt. Barneson is a veteran yachtsman, and was for two years commodore of the San Francisco Yacht Club, of which he is still a member.

Finest Thing Ever For Chronic Catarrh!

Gets Away From the Medicine Habit, Cures by Novel Method

With the many remedies you have tried you surely know that no liquid medicine can cure your throat or nose. Even a gargle only bathes the entrance of the throat—it can't really get inside, nor can it reach the inflamed bronchial tubes.

With Catarrhozone, it's so different from medicine-taking—you simply breathe its healing vapor, inhale its balsamic fumes, which carry cure and relief to the minutest air cells in the lungs, nose, throat and bronchial tubes.

In this scientific way the soreness and inflammation is rapidly allayed, relaxed cords are toned up, the entire mucous membrane invigorated. Every trace of catarrh disappears, the disagreeable dropping of mucus in the throat, hawking, spitting, and stopped-up nostrils—all these sure signs of catarrh and bronchitis are permanently cured by Catarrhozone. Large outfit lasts two months, costs $1.00; small size 50 cents, trial size 25 cents, at dealers everywhere.

Established 1908

"Advertising is to business as steam is to machinery."

Rome was not built in a day, neither was an established business. It takes care, time, patience and advertising to build a business. Our business is to make advertising pay—to prove to the small advertiser that he can obtain as comparatively good results as the man who is prepared to spend thousands. Truth in advertising helps to make advertising pay.

IS THANKFUL FOR FRIEND'S ADVICE

Mrs. Barnes Says Tanlac Has Entirely Relieved Her of Nervous Indigestion.

"I can't begin to express my gratitude to Tanlac for the wonderful improvement it has made in my health," said Mrs. H. Barnes, of 536 Cambie Street, Vancouver, B. C., recently.

"Even before I came to this country from England five years ago, my stomach gave me a lot of trouble and has been getting worse ever since. It got so bad at last that I couldn't eat a thing without suffering from gas and palpitation of the heart, and even to ride on a street car would give me a feeling of nausea. I was troubled almost every day with fearful headaches and at times became so dizzy that I had to sit down and rest until the attack was over. Pains in my back made it impossible to stoop over and these were so bad at night that I could get but very little sleep. Consequently I was always tired out and had no energy but just had to lie down most of the time. I fell off in weight and became very weak and there was hardly a sign of color in my face. I tried so many things without getting any help from them that I had almost given up all hope of ever getting better.

"I shall always be thankful that I took a friend's advice and tried Tanlac, for four bottles of the medicine have made me feel like a different woman. My appetite is now fine and I can eat whatever I want and never have a sign of indigestion. I am no longer troubled with headaches and dizzy spells and in fact I haven't an ache or a pain of any kind now. I sleep fine all night and get up in the mornings so fresh and full of energy that I want to be out and about as soon as I get through with the housework. The wonderful change in my health seems almost too good to be true. I owe it all to Tanlac and never intend to be without it after this."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, Druggist, and in Esquimalt by Lang's Drug Store. (Adv't)

NO PRICE REDUCTION IN SIGHT IN ENGLAND

British-Made Goods Will Be High for Some Time, Says Vancouver Buyer for Hudson's Bay Co.

After a six months' survey of the European market, Mr. H. H. Hollier, general merchandise superintendent for the Hudson's Bay Company, has returned convinced that commodities produced in Great Britain and the continental countries will be subject to even higher prices than in effect heretofore, according to an interview given to The Vancouver Province last Saturday. This period of higher prices, he said, would last for at least a year. In the case of England the reason for the increase, he explained, was due to the Old Country manufacturers being now flooded with orders from all parts of the world, while at the same time the pre-war standard of production had been considerably reduced. In many lines of merchandise the supply was not equal to the demand.

Higher wages were paid, and still higher wages were demanded, and the manufacturers' costs were increased accordingly, pointed out Mr. Hollier. To prevent a recurrence to pre-war conditions the English workmen refused to exert himself to his fullest capacity, he added. As a result manufacturers found themselves booked up with orders which in many cases they would be unable to fill for the next two years. France, Belgium, and Switzerland were confronted with a similar situation.

Case of Supply and Demand

"Naturally higher prices will cause a certain reduced demand in some countries, perhaps in Canada," said Mr. Hollier, "but there are some countries which simply must have new goods, which have not had new goods for years, and to them the cost is a secondary consideration. Therefore, until they are entirely reclothed and refurnished, the demand must exceed the supply and lower prices can not possibly be expected."

Mr. George Milne, the company's European resident buyer, who accompanied Mr. Hollier on his trip, expressed himself as astonished at the cheap prices at which goods were selling in Canada. The prices were, he said, less than the cost of similar commodities in England at the present time, and the goods were, of course, purchased before the recent advances. When later contracts were filled, added Mr. Milne, the buyers would be confronted with increased costs.

Seekers of merchandise from all over the globe, from China, Japan, India, Africa, Australia, New Zealand, and South America, were encountered by the Hudson's Bay Company's buyers in the Old Country, and the majority had to go awa content with a small allotment of the quantities they ordered. Foreigners were very much in evidence, more so than ever before, both in England and France, and hotel accommodation was taxed to the utmost.

"There is a little flurry through this continent just now of price cutting," remarked Mr. Hollier, "but this is brought about by restricted credits, and some people have speculated beyond their depth, but this is only a passing phase."

WITH THE ALPINE CLUB OF CANADA

(By E. C. McD.)

(A Walking or Riding Tour In the Heart of the Rockies—Incursions Into the Very Heart of the Canadian Alpine Scenery—A Trip to the Matterhorn of the Rockies).

A walking or riding tour in the Rockies is a trip unique in its entirety, in that the mountain scenery is unsurpassed, the camps within easy access, and the camp accommodation so thoroughly first-class that it is hard to realize one is thirty miles from nowhere.

For one who revels in camp life, and claim it the only mode of existence in Summer, and for one who is a lover of the beautiful and outdoor this trip will more than surpass all expectations, apart from the physical side of one's well being.

The tour is under the patronage of the Alpine Club of Canada, and what A. O. Wheeler, the director, is doing for Canada in this line will not be realized till the tour is taken, or, unless the reader has already attended one of the annual camps of the A.C.C.

The tour is to Mt. Assiniboine, the Matterhorn of the Canadian Rockies, and starts from Banff boathouse with a motor boat trip up the Bow River for six miles to Mt. Edith Landing. The distance from the landing to Mt. Assiniboine is thirty miles, and can be reached in three days of easy travel, either on foot or by pony.

Two intermediate camps will be placed en route, and a final camp directly below Mt. Assiniboine, which is one of the supreme beauty spots of the Rockies. The first day eleven miles to Sunshine Camp can be made, the second day nine miles to Golden Valley Camp, and the third day will lead one through the Valley of the Rocks, ten miles to Camp Assiniboine.

The requirements for the trip are an ice axe, alpenstock, or steel-shod walking stick, and a small rucksack for carrying a change of clothes and toilet necessaries, the bedding goes on by pack train.

Between the seventeenth of July, and the twenty-fifth of July, inclusive, no visitors can be received at Walking Tour camps, as all available accommodation has been reserved for the three hundred or more members attending the Alpine Club of Canada's "Welcome Home Camp" at Mt. Assiniboine. For further particulars apply to A. O. Wheeler, Director, Alpine Club of Canada, Banff, Alberta.

Let those who are tired of the usual round of Summer resorts, of crowds, dances, and bridge in the evening take this trip and let camp life, and nature supply all amusement, vastly different to that found in hotels, an "adventure" in a world hemmed in by towering mountains, peaks, snow clad and glacier hung, of Alpland meadows that surpass mortal dreams, a world where beauty, nature and the infinite speak, where kindred spirits meet and know each other, through a trip unique in its entirety.

The Story of Ypres—Why the British Held It—A Military Nightmare

From The London Times

The right way to approach Ypres is from the south over the Lys and along the road from Menin. The road runs straight through a desolation that grows with each of the six miles of its length, between stumps and twisted limbs of trees that were once leafy avenues and past fields pitted with shell-holes that two years ago were filled with noisome water, but are now mercifully covered over with grasses.

To go along this road in an afternoon of Armistice November, with the dead hand of war still tight on the land, was to feel the benumbing awe of entering into a vast and gloomy temple. The Menin road was the nave, the Cloth Hall at the end its altar piece, and the transept was the road that runs under the ramparts where the staff officers lived in timber-buttressed caves. Away to the east is the low line of the Passchendaele Ridge, and between it and the city the battle front sweeps past Hooge, crossing the Menin road obliquely, and so to the great indent in the neighborhood of St. Eloi and Messines that was made by the first battle of Ypres.

The battlefields of Ypres have few natural features, and at the end of the war, when the whole of the thin crust of solid earth had been shot away, such as remained seemed about to be submerged in the mud. Of villages like Gheluvelt literally nothing remained except a sign post to show where they had been. The Army had swept forward, no one had come back, and the signs of life were like ghosts in a churchyard, more startling than the deadness of everything else.

Ypres was a continuous battleground for four years, but the fires, burning all the time, became vast conflagrations four times during the war, and each occasion marked a distinct phase of the great struggle on the West.

The First Battle

The first of these conflagrations was in the Autumn of 1914. Ypres became a battlefield by accident. All the plans formed before the outbreak of war assumed that the Germans would invade Belgium, and, when that happened, it was Belgium that, in the minds of those who were thinking about these things, offered the best opportunity for the effective employment of our Army. These plans were baffled by the fall of Namur and by the rapidity of the German advance, and within a week of the first collision at Mons it was decided that our duty was by the side of the French Armies, even though that meant the temporary abandonment of Belgium. The victory of the Marne and the chance that it offered, with the Belgian Army still intact, of turning the German flank made Belgium once more the supreme strategical issue of the war.

A race, thereupon, began between the Germans, who realized what a frightful blunder they had made in not occupying the Belgian coast and the Channel ports, and the British Army under Lord French. The race ended in a dead heat. Antwerp and most of the Belgian coast were lost, but the Channel ports were saved, thanks to the strategic prescience of Lord French, with the few fields of Belgium that were protected by the Belgian Army, the floods, and by the position of Ypres.

This was the subject of the First Battle of Ypres, or of the Battle of Calais as the Germans called it. It was a battle between what was left of the old Regular Army and a German Army consisting in great part of new troops—the best of Young Germany, many of them volunteers but hastily trained. It was a victory if rifle fire over artillery and massed tactics, of a small army, in which every soldier was by this time as skilful as a non-commissioned officer, over numbers and enthusiasm. The German complaint of our overwhelming mass of machine-guns in this battle was perhaps the highest compliment ever paid to the old British Army. They mistook our rifle fire for that of machine-guns. There was in this battle a freedom and elasticity of tactics only possible in an army of long training, and the great flank attack of the Worcesters near Gheluvlet is one of many examples of this freedom.

An Accident of War

On the other hand, the German tactics were bad, but the only tactics possible to an army composed largely of ill-trained, hastily formed troops The battle is rightly accounted the most decisive victory in the history of the British Army; but it made Ypres a salient. The battlefield was the accidental point of collision between two armies both racing for a position on each other's flank, but the result, though it saved the ports and determined the whole future course of our campaign in the West, made Ypres the most dangerous point in the British lines.

The Second Battle

The second critical time was in the spring of 1915, when the Germans delivered their first gas attacks on the north side of the city. This was an attempt to turn Ypres on the north, and the spring made an indent on the north side corresponding to the indent made in the preceding Autumn on the south. The Ypres salient was now a military nightmare. Cold reason would have counselled its abandonment, but sentiment and loyalty forbade. Ypres became a symbol, a sort of wraith such as the gods and goddesses in Homer used to make of a favorite hero, round whom the battle would continue to rage with fury after they had rapt his corporate presence away to a place of greater safety.

The next crisis in the history of the salient came in the Autumn of 1917. The decision to make the offensive against Passchendaele had many motives. One was the desire to escape from the torture of a position in which our every movement was under observation, and in which life was only a precarious death. Our valor in defending Ypres in Autumn, and in holding on to a position which was from the military point of view almost inconceivably bad had been stinging the army to distraction for the better part of two years. Another motive was the old ambition of outflanking the Germans in Belgium, expressed so brilliantly by Lord French's transference of the British Army to Flanders in the Autumn of 1914. It was the British Army's idea of a "way round" in substitution for the "break-through" tactics of the offensives in France. The offensive towards Passchendaele, it was supposed, would give us a position from which we could dominate the coast and force the Germans to abandon it.

The Passchendaeue offensive was drowned in rain and smothered in mud. It imposed on the British Army probably the most awful trials that physical endurance and moral resolution have ever been subjected to, and it is now generally agreed that human flesh and blood ought never to have been subjected to these trials. Made in the Spring the attack might have had a better chance of achieving decisive results, but Passchendaele by Autumn had become a military superstition. The heroic symbol of Ypres was developing into military totemism. Immediately after the end of this offensive the brilliant victory of the first battle of Cambrai showed us the way.

The Last Crisis

The last crisis in the history of Ypres came in the Spring of 1918, with the German offensive on the Lys. In this offensive the object of the Germans was to enlarge the salient on the south side of Ypres, to break through to the Channel ports, and to separate and destroy the army of Ypres. The offensive was carried so dangerously far that the Ypres Army had to prepare for evacuation as a lesser evil than being cut off. In preparation for evacuation and retreat, the positions won in the preceding Autumn were evacuated and the whole of Ypres front was contracted to the smallest possible arc. A mile or two farther advance of the Germans in the Lys valley and Ypres must have been sacrificed.

Happily, the advance was stayed, and in the great series of victories won by the British armies later the Ypres Army took not the least distinguished part. Ypres was not the strategic hinge of victory, but it was the lock that held fast through the strain of what really was a great four years' siege. It was the greatest siege of history, the siege of the Straits, and the Ypres salient was really a bastion of a greater salient that had London for its centre and Kent within its circumference.

UNDER-DRINKING

(By Walter M. Gallichan in The London Daily Mail)

A large number of people suffer ill-health through neglecting to drink the requisite quantity of fluid. Women especially are apt to disregard the necessity for using water and other fluids as tissue-builders.

It is estimated that about two-thirds of the body weight is made up of water. Every day the tissues require water to repair waste. There must be a circulation of fluid in the system or disease results.

Loss of flesh is sometimes caused by under-drinking and too much liquid predisposes to obesity. The absorption of water is not performed by the stomach but by the intestines. The influence of water upon the stomach is slight, and there is not conclusive evidence that water dilutes the gastric fluid.

Many persons think that they are assisting the process of digestion by eating their meals "dry." Half a pint or even a larger quantity of water cannot retard digestion, and it has been shown that the work of the digestive organs is aided by a glass of light ale or thin wine.

Water is necessary for eliminating injurious products from the system. An under-supply of water is a contributing factor of gout and digestive disorder.

• • • •

Some extremists among the advocates of vegetarianism have argued that if plenty of fruit or vegetables are eaten there is no need for liquid. We find, however, that the herb-feeding animals, even in moist pastures, still seek water and die unless they can find it.

Water in sufficient quantity cannot be supplied to the human body through food alone. We need about three pints of fluid daily. If the labor is severe enough to cause profuse excretion through the pores of the skin, a larger quantity of drink is essential.

The practice of drinking half a pint of hot water before the first meal in the day is a simple but effective preventive of some of the common ailments of the digestive system. Part of the daily amount of fluid should consist of pure water. The dangers of tea and coffee have been exaggerated, and if these beverages are agreeable there is very little risk in their moderate use. No doubt many people drink too much strong tea. Weak tea that is not unduly hot is practically harmless to the average adult. The danger in narcotic beverages is in immoderate use of too hot and too strong decoctions.

One reason why many persons do not drink enough is that they do not like plain water and have a very limited number of substitutes. Some teetotallers drink no other fluid than tea. There are many palatable liquids besides ordinary water or alcoholic and narcotic fluids. In Summer it is a wholesome custom to drink lime or lemon juice in mineral or plain water.

More use might be made of natural mineral waters. The gas contained in these assists digestion. The sweetened artificial mineral waters are more likely to produce acid, but the sugar in them has some nutritive and restorative value.

Persons who tend to drink too little should try to discover a beverage that is harmless and attractive to the taste.
